KANSAS CITY ROYALS 1971 MEDIA GUIDE

NEW HOME IN 1972

The Royals expect to move into their new home at the Harry S. Truman Sports Complex in time for the opening of the 1972 season—leaving behind a stadium full of nostalgic memories but moving into a new facility which will be as modern as any in baseball.

Left behind in the move will be Municipal Stadium, which enters its 49th year in 1971. The stadium was called Muehlebach Field when it was opened on July 3, 1923. It had been a $400,000 project and included 16,000 seats. The name was changed to Ruppert Stadium in 1937 and to Blues Stadium in 1946. It became Municipal Stadium on December 30, 1954, when the city purchased it, and a second deck was added in time to welcome major league baseball when the Athletics played their first game on April 12, 1955. Only minor additions and modifications have been made since that time.

Ground was broken on the Truman Complex on a 370-acre tract located near the junction of I-70 and I-435 on July 11, 1968. Financing of the Complex is by general obligation bonds as voted by the citizens of Jackson County on June 27, 1967. A unique scoreboard featuring the latest in technological advances and many other features will be furnished by the Royals.

Parking facilities will include space for 16,000 cars and 80 busses with entrances from Leeds Road, Raytown Road and Blue Ridge Road. Each parking area is connected by a perimeter drive and two overpasses will be available for pedestrians out of the flow of traffic.

The complex is conveniently located in the eastern part of Kansas City only 10 minutes from the downtown area.

The dimensions of the field are symmetrical—330 feet down the foul lines, 385 to the power alleys and 410 to center. It will be the first American League field to be covered totally with a synthetic turf, except for the pitching mound, home plate and sliding areas at each base.

Seating at the stadium will be of the most modern available and each seat will have a completely unobstructed view of the playing field. There will be 3 levels with a seating capacity of approximately 42,000 with room for the addition later of several thousand seats in the outfield area.

Stadium facilities include 30 rest rooms (15 for men and a like number of ladies rooms) plus 2 first aid rooms, one on the plaza level and another on the upper deck.

There will be 22 concession stands with other facilities available offering the finest in customer services.

Four escalators will be included in the stadium as an aid to fans.

Lighting will be excellent with over 800 multi-vapor lamps, each with 1,500 watt power. The playing field will be illuminated to 350 foot candle brilliancy.

Press facilities will be the finest in the major leagues. There will be 2 levels in the press box. The upper deck will have 6 broadcasting booths with camera bays at both ends and in the center.

The lower level will include 2 terraces with seating for 100, storage rooms, rest rooms and photography labs. A modern press club will also be provided.

More than 2,500 tons of reinforcing steel and 35,000 cubic yards of concrete are being used in building the stadium.

Starting Times ..... See Back Cover

August 26 —Omaha wins American Association championship, giving Kansas City its first farm club title. No other first year club in modern history has had a minor league champion above Class B.

September 11 —Ewing Kauffman announces plans for a Baseball Academy in Florida. Syd Thrift is named director.

September 30 —Lou Piniella and Bill Butler are named to Topps Major League Rookie All-Star team.

October 2 —First season ends with 6-2 win over California, giving Royals a 4-game winning streak. Kansas City's 69-93-1 record is just one win shy of modern day first year record. Royals finish fourth in American League West, two games out of first division, and earn 45-45 record in own division. Season home attendance is 902,183.

October 8 —Charlie Metro becomes manager for 1970 as Joe Gordon steps out in favor of organizational job as Coordinator of Instruction and special assignment scout.

October 24 —Paul Splittorff is promoted to major league roster, becoming first player signed originally by Royals to reach that level.

November 14 —Sarasota, Fla., is selected as site of Royals' new Minor League Complex and Baseball Academy.

November 26 —Lou Piniella is elected by Baseball Writers Association of America as American League Rookie-of-the-Year.

December 23 —Lou Gorman becomes head of scouting department. New title is Director of Minor League Operations and Scouting.

January 20 —Ground is broken for Minor League Complex and Baseball Academy in Sarasota, Fla.

June 9 —Bob Lemon succeeds Charlie Metro as manager.

July 14 —Amos Otis becomes first Royal to play in an All-Star Game. He plays last six innings at Cincinnati.

August 10 —Baseball Academy opens with 43 students.

September 7 —Baseball Academy wins its opening game from the Chicago Grays, 11-0.

August 21 —Bob Lemon's managerial contract is extended through 1971.

September 21 —Jim York becomes first player originally signed by Royals to appear in a major league game. His 4 2/3 innings of 1-run relief earns an 8-2 win in the second game of a doubleheader at Chicago. Paul Splittorff debuts two days later.

CEDRIC TALLIS
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

Cedric Tallis worked for 20 years in baseball to become a major league general manager, and when he reached the goal with Kansas City on January 16, 1968, he quickly made his mark.

He set up an organization which helped him put together the most artistically successful of the 4 expansion franchises which started play in 1969. His shrewd trades, highlighted by those which brought Lou Piniella and Amos Otis to the Royals, have been a major factor in the Royals' ability to win 134 games in 2 seasons. Kansas City started with 69 wins in 1969, just one under the modern day expansion record.

This is Tallis' second experience with an expansion franchise. He moved from a Triple A general manager's job at Seattle to the Los Angeles (now California) Angels when they set up business in 1961. Tallis was named Business Manager, then became Vice President in charge of Operations in 1965.

In the latter capacity, he coordinated the move to Anaheim. Tallis' baseball career started in 1948 upon discharge from the Army. His first job was as a general manager in the Detroit Tigers' organization. His most successful minor league season probably was 1957 at Vancouver when his team drew 306,000 fans, a minor league figure unequalled for more than 10 years afterward. He was honored as executive-of-the-year in the Pacific Coast League.

Cedric and wife Barbara own a home in Metropolitan Kansas City . . . daughter Gale is a student at the University of Kansas and son Gary attends Maur Hill High School in Atchison, Kan. . . . Tallis attended Concord (N.H.) College, then enlisted in the Army in 1940 . . . he received a commission after Infantry Officer Candidate School in 1941, served in the Aleutian Campaign and European Theatre and was released from active duty as a Major in 1948.

LOU GORMAN
DIRECTOR OF MINOR LEAGUE OPERATIONS AND SCOUTING

Lou Gorman was one of the first people hired in the Kansas City Royals' front office. He was named Director of Player Development on February 5, 1968, although his title was later changed to Director of Minor League Operations. He assumed added duties as Director of Scouting on December 23, 1969.

Gorman came to the Royals from the Baltimore Orioles where he served as Assistant Farm Director and later as Director of Minor League Clubs. He previously had been general manager of various minor league teams in the Pittsburgh Pirate and San Francisco Giant organizations.

In his first year as Director of Minor League Clubs at Baltimore, 3 of the 6 teams he supervised won championships. The combined farm club won-lost record was the second best in the organization's history. Baltimore won the Topps Trophy for the outstanding minor league system in baseball. Baltimore won 2 more league titles under Lou the next year.

Lou and wife Mary Lou live in Overland Park, Kan. . . . he attended LaSalle Academy in Providence, R.I., graduated from Stonehill College in North Easton, Mass., received a Masters Degree in Education from Bridgewater (Mass.) State College and has completed course work for a Masters Degree in English from Georgetown University in Washington, D. C. . . . he played professional baseball briefly in the Philadelphia Phillies' organization in 1947-48 . . . he spent 7 years on active duty in the Navy as a Commissioned Officer, and presently holds the rank of Commander in the Naval Reserve.

THE MANAGER

LEMON, ROBERT GRANVILLE #2

Bob, 6-0, 210, L-R, was born September 22, 1920, at San Bernardino, Calif., now makes his home at Long Beach, Calif. . . . Lem and wife Jane have 3 sons, Jeff (4-6-48) and Jim (12-10-50), both attending Long Beach City College, and Jerry (9-4-52), who is in the Air Force.

Lemon, owner of one of the finest major league pitching records of all-time, gets his first opportunity to mold a major league team from the first day of spring training in 1971 . . . he was elevated from pitching coach to manager last June 9 . . . the Royals had only a .365 percentage (19-33) at the time and already trailed the Minnesota Twins by 16½ games . . . an instant turn-around wasn't logical because of numerous injuries, but Lemon's patience paid off down the stretch when he guided the Royals to a .500 (21-21) finish from August 17 . . . his over-all record was 46-64 (.418), but evidence was clearly available that a healthy team would produce a much healthier record . . . Lemon, whose contract was extended on August 21, has often said the Royals are "long on talent, but short on experience, and the only way to get experience is by playing" . . . Lemon has had success throughout his career, which goes into its 34th year in 1971, and has been interrupted only by a 3-year Navy stint . . . his recent successes have been in the managerial business . . . 3 of his 4 minor league seasons resulted in a first or second place finish . . . he was acclaimed as Minor League Manager-of-the-Year by The Sporting News in 1966 after his Seattle Angels won the Pacific Coast League Western Division title and stopped Eastern champion Tulsa 4 games to 3 in the playoffs . . . he joined California as pitching coach the next 2 seasons where he helped develop the staff which boosted the Angels into a contender last year . . . then he joined the Royals after a second place finish at Vancouver in 1969 . . . as a pitcher for 13 years at Cleveland, Lem was one of the dominant figures in baseball . . . many experts believe Hall of Fame election is long overdue . . . his 207 major league victories give him a share of 56th place on the all-time list . . . more impressively, his .618 percentage (207-128) ranks 17th among the 200-game winners, and Whitey Ford (236-106, .690) is the only one in the group who has been active since Lemon . . . he last pitched in 1967 . . . 13 of the 16 with better percentages already are in the Hall of Fame . . . Ford is not yet eligible . . . Lemon was the last American League pitcher to win 20 or more games 3 consecutive years (he did it twice and won 20 in 6 of 7 and 7 of 9 seasons) until Dave McNally posted his third 20-win campaign in as many tries in 1970 . . . Bob's other accomplishments include being named the outstanding pitcher in the American League by The Sporting News in 1948, 1950 and 1954 . . . the Baseball Writers Association of America named him to the Major League All-Star team in those same years . . . he won the second and sixth (final) games of the 1948 World Series as the Indians defeated the Boston Braves, and was acclaimed the Cleveland BBWAA Man-of-the-Year . . . he helped Cleveland to another league title in 1954 . . . he was selected for 7 consecutive All-Star Games (1948-54), and hurled a no-hitter over Detroit on June 30, 1948, winning 2-0 . . . his league leadership list is lengthy (see playing record below), but perhaps one of the most impressive came in 1948 when he hurled 10 shutouts . . . he had 31 for his career . . . Bob holds the major league record for pitchers for double plays in one season with 15 in 1953 . . . his fielding marks also include leading AL hurlers in putouts 5 times and assists 6 times . . . he was one of the major league's best hitting pitchers, too, after actually starting as an infielder-outfielder . . . his 37 career home runs are equal to the number hit by AL record-holder Wes Ferrell, but some of Lem's came as a pinch hitter . . . he owned a .284 average (31-109) in the latter capacity . . . Bob signed with Cleveland scout John Angel after graduation from Long Beach's Woodrow Wilson High School.

THE COACHES

CISCO, GALEN BERNARD #3

Galen, 5-11, 210, R-R, was born March 7, 1937, at St. Marys, Ohio, where he and wife Martha live with their sons, Galen (Chip), Jr. (9-5-58) and Jeff (12-31-61) . . . Galen graduated from Ohio State in 1960 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Education . . . he coached for the Royals in the Florida Instructional League last fall.

Cisco is returning to the Royals after a year with their Omaha farm club, but his return is in a new capacity . . . he was a pitcher in 1969, and trained with the parent club last spring . . . now he is pitching coach . . . his appointment came last November 2 . . . it marks a rapid rise for Galen, who has been considered a good student of baseball throughout his 13-year career . . . his first coaching assignment was last year when he instructed the pitchers in Omaha . . . Royals officials liked his ideas and his ability to get them across to young pitchers . . . Galen was considered a prime factor in Omaha winning its second consecutive American Association championship . . . he brought along several young members of the pitching staff . . . he is well acquainted with most of the Royals' staff . . . Galen also was a key reliever and spot starter from June on when he was pressed into duty . . . he had 6 wins and 2 saves . . . Kansas City purchased Cisco on August 14, 1968, from Boston's Louisville farm club . . . he started '69 at Omaha, but joined the parent club in mid-June and lifted his time as a major leaguer to almost 6 years . . . his last major league victory came on June 28, 1969, when he blanked Minnesota for 2 innings . . . Galen tied a major league record on September 21, 1962, when he struck out 4 pinch hitters . . . he fanned George Altman, Bob Will, Hobie Landrith and Cuno Barragan in beating the Chicago Cubs . . . he considers 1964 his best season . . . he was 6-19 for the last place Mets, but had a very acceptable 3.61 ERA in nearly 200 innings . . . he enjoyed a banner year in 1968, leading the International League in ERA and shutouts (6) . . . Galen's first fame was at Ohio State . . . he was the starting fullback for 3 seasons and helped the Buckeyes to 2 Big Ten championships and the national title in 1957 when he captained the team which defeated Oregon 10-7 in the Rose Bowl on January 1, 1958 . . . he lettered twice in baseball, and cast his lot with Boston by signing for Dennis Galehouse . . . Galen also had had 3 standout years at St. Marys' Memorial High School.

DUNLOP, HARRY ALEXANDER #4

Harry, 6-3, 200, L-R, was born September 6, 1933, at Sacramento, Calif., where he still lives with wife Joanne and their children, Laura (9-1-58), David (3-21-60) and Susan (7-31-62).

Dunlop is starting his third season as a Kansas City coach . . . he is back where he started in 1969—coaching first base . . . he did spell Jo Jo White at third base numerous times late in the year . . . last season he was bullpen coach . . . Harry also tutors the catchers since he put in 13 professional seasons at that position . . . he also managed for 8 years and proved himself a capable leader . . . he was California League Manager-of-the-Year in 1963 and 1967 and won 2 split season titles and 2 playoffs . . . most of his managing career was for Baltimore and California . . . he first managed when only 24 years old . . . that was at Tucson, Ariz. . . . he also enjoyed his best offensive season as a player in 1958 by hitting .349, and he paced Arizona-Mexico League catchers in fielding (.992), putouts (806) and assists (81) . . . Harry turned pro out of Sacramento High School for Pittsburgh's Bob Fontaine, then caught 3 no-hit, no-run games in the 16 he played for Bristol, Tenn., that first year . . . they were on May 13, 22 and 26 . . . one was Ron Necciai's 27-strikeout performance . . . although only 19, he managed an Army team at Camp Drake in Japan the next year and again in 1954 . . . Harry had several other years in which he posted outstanding defensive records, including 1959 when he set a Northwest League record with a .992 fielding percentage . . . he led the California League (.989) in 1961 when he started a string of 7 consecutive years as a manager.

STRICKLAND, GEORGE BEVAN #5

George, 6-1, 195, R-R, was born January 10, 1926, at New Orleans, La., where he still lives with wife Lorraine and son John (3-15-55).

Strickland returns to a familiar spot this year—coaching third base—as he reaches his 10th season as a coach or manager in the major leagues . . . he was hired by Kansas City on June 9, 1970, the day ex-Cleveland teammate Bob Lemon became manager, and joined the team the next day . . . he worked on the bench with Lemon the rest of the year . . . 5 of George's first 8 years of coaching (1962-63-66-68-69) were on the third base line although he did leave that post for the final month and a half in 1966 when he replaced Birdie Tebbetts as manager for a second time . . . his vast knowledge of the American League is a big help to the Royals . . . Strickland, who had 10 years as a major league player, also serves as infield instructor . . . his best season was 1953 when he hit .284 and led American League shortstops in double plays (103) . . . he was a key man again in 1954 when the Indians won a record 111 games, although he did miss nearly 7 weeks because of a broken jaw . . . he came back in '55 to lead AL shortstops in fielding (.976) . . . George tied a major league record for most double plays by a shortstop in one game (5) on September 27, 1952 . . . he still owns a share of that record . . . George made it to the majors in 1950, the season after he led Southern Association shortstops in fielding (.952) . . . the New Orleans Pelicans' Vince Rizzo first signed him after graduation from S. J. Peters High School.

THE PLAYERS

R-R ABERNATHY, TED WADE (P) #36

Ted, 6-4, 210, was born March 6, 1933, at Stanley, N. C., now calls Gastonia, N. C., home . . . Abby, as he is nicknamed, and wife Margie have 2 sons, Teddy (10-17-57) and Todd (10-24-63) . . . Ted is a salesman for an oil company in the winter.

Abernathy, one of baseball's few submarine pitchers and easily the most successful, was a key mid-season acquisition for the Royals last summer when he was obtained from St. Louis on July 1 for Omaha pitcher Chris Zachary . . . he rapidly became one of Kansas City's most valuable players, a role he is expected to hold again in 1971 when he completes his second full decade in organized baseball . . . Abby made his presence felt very soon after joining the Royals in Minnesota on July 2 . . . he won 3 games and saved another in 5 appearances in his first 6 days with the club . . . that was an indication of what was to come . . . from July 2 through the end of the season, he compiled 21 relief points with 9 wins and 12 saves . . . that was 1 more than any other American League hurler had in the same span and just 1 below National League pacesetter Wayne Granger . . . he tied for ninth for the year . . . the Royals enjoyed a 23-13 margin in games in which he worked . . . the most amazing mark may have been that Ted was involved in 10 decisions (7-3) and had 8 saves in his first 22 appearances and had a win, loss or save in 10 consecutive appearances . . . he had a scoreless streak for 7 games and parts of 2 others which covered 12 innings . . . obviously, he thrives on work and often has said he is most effective when he works several days in a row for short stints . . . he hurled in 6 consecutive games in one period, . . . his longest stint was for 5 innings against Baltimore on July 22 . . . he entered with the score tied 3-3 at the start of the ninth and allowed only 1 runner to reach second base on a 1-hit effort until the 13th when a walk, sacrifice, ground out and bunt single beat him . . . he didn't lose the rest of the season in 25 more appearances . . . he was 5-3 with 4 saves in July (2 losses were by 1 run, the other by 2) to become the Royals' pitcher-of-the-month . . . Ted became a 10-year man 3 days before the 1970 season closed, and rapidly is climbing the ladder for rubber-arm work . . . he needs just 27 more appearances to become baseball's 33rd 600-game pitcher . . . he will reach the mark in his 13th season in the majors . . . all of the others worked 14 or more . . . Ted ranks second to Lindy McDaniel among active American Leaguers . . . McDaniel has 781 appearances . . . only Hoyt Wilhelm (1042) and Don McMahon (738) among National Leaguers lead Abby . . . his 457 appearances the last 7 years average a fraction more than 65 per year . . . his first of 2 fireman-of-the-year awards from The Sporting News came in 1965 after he had established National League records for most games pitched and most games in relief—both 84 . . . the marks since have been broken . . . he still shares the NL high for games finished . . . he tied Jim Konstanty's record of 62 in 1965, 15 years after the Phillie reliever had set the mark . . . the Cubs' Phil Regan tied it again in 1968 . . . Abby again was named the No. 1 reliever in 1967 and he was runnerup to Regan in 1968 . . . he started last season with Chicago, but the Cubs sent him to St. Louis in May for Phil Gagliano . . . Ted's career has been greatly affected by injuries, which forced him to the underhand or submarine delivery . . . he first injured his arm in his first year of high school in 1948 . . . he shifted to sidearm then, but didn't start working on the submarine delivery until an additional injury in 1957 forced him back to the minors . . . Washington was his original club, with the late Chick Suggs signing him to his first pact.

R-R BUNKER, WALLACE EDWARD (P) #27

Wally, 6-1½, 205, was born January 25, 1945, at Seattle, Wash. . . . he and wife Kathy and sons Michael (9-6-66) and Sean (8-26-68) live in Overland Park, Kan. . . . Bunk, as he is nicknamed, has worked for the Royals in each of the last 2 off-seasons.

Bunker, a third round choice from Baltimore in the expansion draft, suffered through a frustrating year with shoulder miseries in 1970 . . . it wasn't until August 15 that he shook them, but down the stretch he was the same pitcher who had become the Royals' top winner and ace in 1969 . . . now he figures to be a regular starter again in 1971 . . . he spent from June 11-July 24 on the disabled list . . . Wally regained his effectiveness so well he allowed only 15 earned runs in his 8 starts from August 15 on and had an excellent 2.05 ERA . . . lack of offensive support prevented him from winning until September 1 when he 4-hit California in Anaheim for a 4-0 win . . . he escaped a bases-loaded, no-out situation in the first . . . he lost a 4-hit, 1-0 decision at Minnesota in the stretch, and his best game of all may well have been his 11 innings of 1-run 3-hit pitching against Boston on August 21 . . . only 3 Red Sox reached second base . . . Bunker left for a pinch hitter, and Kansas City won in the 12th, 2-1 . . . he has been the Royals' opening day hurler in each of their first 2 seasons, but has started slowly . . . he had only 2 wins as late as June 19, 1969, partly because a pulled hamstring cost him 18 days in May . . . he was tremendous the rest of the way . . . he won 6 of his last 8 decisions and completed 6 of his last 10 starts to cause many observers to rate him a better pitcher than in 1964 when as a 19-year-old he won 19 games for Baltimore and became winner of The Sporting News' rookie pitcher-of-the-year award in the American League . . . besides pacing the staff in wins in 1969, he also was the workhorse . . . Kansas City won in 21 of his 35 appearances . . . it appeared he definitely had gotten rid of the elbow tendonitis problem which had threatened his career . . . he owns good control and is known for his calmness . . . he had 1 stretch in '69 of 36-1/3 innings without an unintentional walk . . . Bunker set a career high in strikeouts with 10 against Washington on June 3, 1969, in a 5-3 win . . . the third 1-hitter of his career came at California on September 11, 1969, when he blanked the Angels, 3-0 . . . Jay Johnstone's leadoff single in the seventh was the only hit . . . his other 1-hitters were for Baltimore against Washington (5-5-64) and Kansas City (7-3-64) . . . he was 6-0 against the A's that year, and his .792 percentage shared the major league lead with Sandy Koufax . . . they had identical 19-5 records . . . Wally was a World Series winner in 1966 with a 1-0 win over the Dodgers in Game 3 . . . Don McShane and Fred Hoffman first signed him for the Orioles and in his lone minor league season Royals Coach Harry Dunlop was his manager for California League champion Stockton.

Tom, 5-11, 185, was born August 2, 1943, at St. Paul, Minn., now makes his home in Kansas City, Mo., with his January bride Betsy . . . nicknames are Bergie or Bugs . . . he worked for the Royals last winter.

Burgmeier, chosen from California in the fifth round of the expansion draft, enjoyed his most productive major league season in 1970 . . . he was the lefthander in the Royals' bullpen, a position he seems likely to retain . . . an improved curve made his season a more productive one . . . he had worked hard on it at Omaha, where his 1.23 ERA was leading the American Association at the time of his recall on May 19 . . . he had a stretch of 17 games from June 27 through August 9 in which he was scored on only 3 times . . . his best game ever for the Royals may have been a 7 2/3-inning effort against New York on Memorial Day of 1969 when he allowed just 2 infield singles and a bloop double . . .Tom helps himself at bat (his first major league hit broke up a Jim Palmer no-hit bid with 2 out in the sixth on May 17, 1969) and by fielding his position well . . . he won the Rawlings Silver Glove Award for pitchers in 1967 when he handled more chances (75) without an error than any other minor league pitcher . . . he had 69 assists

. . . Tom has been used as a pinch hitter and pinch runner . . . he signed originally for Houston, then signed again in 1964 for California . . . Rosey Gilhousen, now the Royals' Western Scouting Director, inked him that time . . . he played hockey and baseball and wrestled at Cathedral High School in St. Cloud, Minn . . . he had 2 no-hitters and paced the baseball team to an undefeated season and state championship in 1961.

Bill, 6-2, 205, was born March 12, 1947, at Hyattsville, Md. . . . Bill, wife Carol and daughter Christine (9-18-66) call Herndon, Va., home, although they spent much of last winter at their summer residence in Overland Park, Kan. . . . he has attended Benjamin Franklin University in Washington, D.C.

Butler, taken from Detroit in the third round of the expansion draft, will be attempting to regain top form in 1971 after a season in which a nerve irritation in his left elbow proved bothersome . . . it is believed surgery on October 28 by Dr. Paul Meyer, team physician, relieved Bill of the irritation, which also caused lesser problems in 1969 . . . he can be a big asset . . . in 1969 and early last year he displayed one of the league's best fastballs . . . he was the Royals' pitcher-of-the-month in April '70 . . . Bill had the fourth best strikeout ratio (7.24 every 9 innings) in the American League in his rookie year among pitchers who worked as much as he did, and earned a spot on the Topps Major League Rookie All-Star team . . . he had been a steady starter throughout his rookie year and until August 9 last year when he was sent to Omaha for a month . . . his first appearance after returning was a 2-0, 4-hit shutout over Milwaukee on September 10 in which Bill worked the first 8-1/3 innings and allowed 3 hits . . . he had some other excellent games, too, and an excellent ratio of hits (117) to innings pitched (140-2/3) . . . he blanked Chicago 4-0 on 3 singles July 11 and worked 10 innings of scoreless, 3-hit baseball at Cleveland May 13 . . . the Royals won in 12, 1-0 . . . at Washington on May 30, he allowed 3 runs before anyone was out in the first, then worked 7 2/3 innings of 1-hit ball but lost, 3-2 . . . that was 1 of 5 defeats by 1 run . . . 6 times he allowed 3 hits or less in 6 or more innings . . . his best major league game may have been at Cleveland on August 9, 1969, when Eddie Leon's 1-out single in the third was all that prevented a no-hitter in a 10-0 romp . . . it was 1 of 4 shutouts . . . only 3 AL hurlers had more . . . he fanned 10 on 3 occasions, including September 5 at Seattle when a blister forced him out after facing 1 batter in the seventh . . . 6 of the first 7 outs were on strikeouts . . . 9 K's against Boston on June 16 marked his '70 high . . . Bill's major league debut was a sparkling 1-hit shutout performance for 5 innings against Minnesota on April 9, 1969 . . . Kansas City eventually won in 17, 4-3 . . . he had 6-1/3 hitless innings starting with 2 out in the first against Chicago late that year . . . the southpaw hadn't pitched above Class AA until joining the Royals . . . he had a 7-inning no-hitter for Rocky Mount on June 30, 1966, but lost to Raleigh in the first extra inning, 1-0 . . . his 6 shutouts shared the Carolina League lead the next season . . . Bill played baseball and basketball for 4 years at Herndon High School before George Ferrell signed him for Detroit.

Lance, 6-2, 205, was born July 6, 1947, at Philadelphia . . . he has a Bachelor of Science Degree in Health and Physical Education from West Chester (Pa.) State College, now is a substitute elementary and junior-senior high school physical education teacher in the off-season at Naples, Fla. . . . his wife's name is Linda.

Clemons, a fourth-round choice in the 1968 June Free-Agent draft, made rapid strides last summer in his first season as a pro pitcher . . . he had pitched some in college, including a no-hitter in his first game, but was an outfielder-first baseman in pro ball until the Florida Instructional League in 1969 . . . he possesses good major league potential, but could need more time . . . he averaged well over a strikeout an inning last year, and made key contributions to Omaha during the Triple A Royals' stretch drive to their American Association and playoff championships . . . he had jumped from Class A . . . his best performance was at Tulsa in July . . . he struck out 7 in 3 1/3 innings while allowing 1 hit and 1 walk . . . Lance went back to the instructional league last fall where he allowed just 45 hits in 60 innings . . . his record was 1-4 and he had 2 saves and a 3.15 ERA . . . a big college thrill was hitting 3 consecutive home runs in one game . . . Syd Thrift, now director of the Royals' Baseball Academy, signed him for Kansas City . . . Lance led New York-Penn League first basemen in fielding (.994) his first year . . . he hit .282 in 71 games for Corning with 7 homers and 47 RBI, then came back with .274, 5, 27 figures at Waterloo in 67 games in 1969 . . . he was an outstanding swimmer in high school at Radnor, Pa., and in college . . . he took part in the national YMCA meet in 1964.

R-R CRAM, GERALD ALLEN (P) #38

Jerry, 6-0, 185, was born December 9, 1947, at Los Angeles, now calls Santa Ana, Calif., home . . . he is single, has attended Riverside (Calif.) City College.

Cram, who was chosen from Minnesota in the sixth round of the expansion draft, has come close to a regular job with Kansas City before and will get a long look again . . . he had the best ERA among the starters and led the league in putouts (21) for pennant-winning Omaha last summer, then sharpened his skills last winter at LaGuaire in the Venezuelan League . . . he was seventh in the League with a 2.76 ERA despite a 5-10 record . . . he has an excellent curveball . . . his major league debut was in Kansas City on September 3, 1969 . . . he fanned Al Kaline, the second batter he faced, and had a 2-inning scoreless stint . . . he started his next 2 games . . . his loss was 3-2 at Seattle on September 15 when defense hurt . . . he had several outstanding feats in the minors while pitching for Minnesota, whose Jess Flores signed him . . . he fanned 9 consecutive hitters in a closeout relief stint in 1967 . . . he entered with 2 on and no outs in the seventh and protected a 4-3 lead . . . in the Carolina League in 1968, he shared the lead in wins and complete games, ranked second in strikeouts, tied for second in shutouts (5) and was seventh in ERA . . . that led the Royals to draft him . . . in the same league the next summer, he had a 1-hitter against Kinston on June 2 . . . Jerry lost his balance or he might have prevented the lone hit from going through the middle . . . he played baseball, basketball and football at Elsinore (Calif.) High School . . . he hurled 2 no-hitters and once fanned 23 in a 9-inning game to win California Interscholastic Federation Class A all-star recognition . . . in his freshman year at Riverside in 1967 he was named the Man of Distinction and most valuable player . . . an uncle, Jim Rice, was a minor league infielder.

DEFINITION OF NIGHT GAME

Any game scheduled to start after 6 p.m. will be considered a night game. If a game is scheduled to start at 6 p.m. and is delayed by rain, or for any other reason, it will be considered a day game. If a game is scheduled to start at 6:01 p.m., it will be considered a night game. Twi-night doubleheaders shall be included in doubleheader statistics and shall be considered two night games. When afternoon and night games are played on the same date with separate admissions, the games shall be day and night and count as single games.

R-R DAL CANTON, JOHN BRUCE (P) #30

Bruce, 6-2, 205, was born June 15, 1942, at California, Pa. . . . he now lives in Pittsburgh with wife Helene . . . he is a high school biology and general science teacher in the off-season, and is working towards a Master Degree . . . he has a Bachelor of Science Degree in Education from California (Pa.) State College and has attended the University of West Virginia in Morgantown.

Dal Canton, who came to the Royals with Fred Patek and Jerry May on December 2, 1970, in the 6-player swap which sent Bob Johnson, Jack Hernandez and Jimmy Campanis to Pittsburgh, is a versatile pitcher who could fit into the Royals' starting rotation or bullpen . . . the Pirates used him primarily in long and short relief, although he started 6 times for the National League East champions . . . any way you look at it, he has been a winner with a 17-6 record the last 2 seasons and a 20-8 (.714) log over-all . . . he went more than a year at one span without a loss . . . he was 7-0 from June 26, 1969, when Chicago beat him 7-5 in 10 innings until Houston stopped the string 5-4 in 12 frames on July 20, 1970 . . . 2 days later Bruce made the first of 4 consecutive starts (3 of them were victories) and turned back Atlanta 5-3 for his first major league victory as a starter . . . he allowed just 1 run the first 7 innings, although he hadn't gone that long in about 2 years . . . he hurled a 6-hit, 8-3 win over Philadelphia on August 6 . . . Bruce led the Pirates in appearances in 1969, was third last year and had the most over the 2-year period . . . Dal Canton developed an effective knuckleball last summer . . . a curve had been his primary pitch . . . when he signed with Pittsburgh's Rex Bowen and Merle Hess in 1965 after a Forbes Field workout, he weighed about 250 pounds, but shed that and was in the majors in his second season . . . a back injury in spring training may have cost him a fulltime job in Pittsburgh in 1968 . . . he hurled his first complete game against Don Drysdale at Dodger Stadium on September 26, 1967, . . . Bruce allowed 3 hits and 3 runs in the first, then blanked Los Angeles on 3 hits the rest of the way, but lost 3-1 . . . he had earned 4 baseball letters at California State where he helped the team to 2 NAIA District 30 championships . . . he once struck out 20 of the 21 batters he faced.

R-R DRAGO, RICHARD ANTHONY (P) #41

Dick, 6-1, 191, was born June 25, 1945, at Toledo, Ohio . . . he now lives at Overland Park, Kan., with wife Vicky and son Darren (10-11-70) . . . Dick has attended the University of Detroit and the University of Tampa.

Drago, selected in the fourth round of the expansion draft from Detroit, has several distinctions in the Royals' first 2 years, his first work in the major leagues . . . most important, he ranks No. 1 in victories (20) . . . he also has been the workhorse with 441 innings and his 17 complete games and 60 starts are tops . . . it all adds up to the fact Dick figures to be a key starter again, and has a bright future . . . his win total dropped from 11 to 9 last year, but it wasn't always his fault . . . 5 of his losses were by 1 run, including his last game September 28 at Minnesota which was by a 1-0 margin when a double, sacrifice and squeeze beat him . . . his first game of the year was one of his best . . . he limited Oakland to 4 singles—the A's were hitless the final 5 1/3—in hurling a 2-0 win . . . control is a big asset . . . it showed up in that he didn't commit a wild pitch his first 251 major league innings . . . his fastball is good enough, although not overpowering . . . his major league high in strikeouts is 9, set last July 23 against Baltimore . . . Dick owns Kansas City's only win over Baltimore . . . it was at Baltimore on May 9, 1969 . . . he had a no-hitter for 6 innings and had allowed only 1 runner—a walk . . . he finished with a 4-hit, 4-2 win in the first meeting ever between the clubs . . . that was his second major league start since he had spent almost the first month in the bullpen . . . 9 days later he blanked Baltimore for 6 1/3, but eventually took his first loss, 5-0 . . . he beat everybody but Chicago and Detroit that year . . . he still hasn't gained a win over the Tigers although the Royals won 2 of his 4 Detroit starts last season and another was only a 2-0 setback . . . Dick allowed 20 home runs last summer, but only 5 came in his last 146 innings (his last 19 starts) . . . he allowed 3 earned runs or less in 9 of his last 10 starts . . . Detroit's Herman Kander signed Dick out of Toledo's Woodward High School . . . his climb to the majors was steady . . . he never was sent down by any club and climbed 1 classification a year . . . he posted 17 minor league shutouts, including a league-leading 7 in the Carolina League in 1966 and a league-tying 4 in the Southern League the next year . . . Dick and Darrel Clark hurled back-to-back no-hitters in a May 15, 1966 doubleheader against Greensboro in the Carolina League . . . Drago won in 7 innings, 5-0 . . . he helped hometown Toledo to the International League championship in 1968.

S-R FITZMORRIS, ALAN JAMES (P) #23

Al, 6-2, 185, was born March 21, 1946, at Buffalo, N.Y., now calls San Diego home . . . he is single, often is called Fitz and has done considerable song-writing and singing for several winters . . . he cut his first record last summer . . . he wrote both rock tunes, "Locked In" and "Winds of My Life."

Fitzmorris, an expansion draft choice (fourth round) from Chicago, came along fast last year as a starter-reliever for the Royals . . . his 8-5 record was second only to Ted Abernathy's 9-3 mark, and he ranked fourth in The Sporting News' player poll to select the best AL rookie hurler . . . Al will bid for a starting job in 1971, but he proved valuable as a swing man last year and could duplicate . . . he had to overcome obstacles to make the staff last year, despite a strong showing at Omaha and a fine finish with the Royals in '69 . . . he reported to spring training with a broken right wrist, the result of a fall while working out in San Diego . . . the exhibition season was more than a week old when he made his first appearance . . . Al was named pitcher-of-the-month in May for his 3-0 relief record plus 1 save . . . the Royals used Fitz exclusively as a reliever until June 28 when he worked the first 6 innings of the second game of a doubleheader against California . . . he allowed 7 hits and 1 run and was a runaway 13-1 victor . . . he started off and on the rest of the way . . . KC won 7 of his 10 starts (he was the listed starter an 11th time, at Minnesota on September 29, but didn't throw a pitch because of a sore shoulder) . . . he was 4-3 in starting roles, but had a much better ERA in relief . . . his ability to induce ground balls is a great aid as a reliever . . . he had an 11-3 complete game win at Boston on August 13 and another at Chicago, 6-2, on September 22 . . . he won his major league debut . . . it was at Oakland on September 8, 1969 . . . Al worked 3 scoreless innings for a 7-3 triumph . . . he retired the first 7 batters he faced . . . Al had 2 saves that year . . . he started in pro ball as an outfielder . . . he didn't start steady mound work until 1967 . . . his bat and glove help him a lot . . . he became the first Royal ever to get hits batting both left and right-handed in one game . . . that was in the second game against Detroit last July 19 . . . he doubled off southpaw Mike Kilkenny in the third and singled off righthander Bob Reed in the fifth . . . his best year as an outfielder probably was his last . . . he hit .237 at Appleton that 1966 season and had 16 doubles, 6 triples, 5 home runs and 45 RBI . . . he also has played some shortstop . . . Al paced American Association pitchers in assists (33) in 1969 . . . he first signed with the White Sox, for Scout Jack Keilch, after graduation from San Diego's James Madison High School in 1964.

R-R FLOYD, ROBERT NATHAN (INF.) #6

Bob, 6-0, 181, was born October 20, 1943, at Hawthorne, Calif., now calls El Segundo, Calif., home . . . he is single, has attended UCLA.

Floyd, who came to the Royals from Baltimore last June 15 in a swap for Moe Drabowsky, made a strong showing last September, and likely will see duty at second, third and short in 1971 . . . Bob reported to the Royals right after the trade, but effects from being on the bench for 2 weeks showed up . . . he went to Omaha and helped the Triple A Royals to their second league championship in succession . . . in addition to a solid fielding job, he also hit at a .424 pace (14-33) in 10 September games for Kansas City . . . included was a 5-RBI spree in 3 games against Chicago and a 4-hit game (2 singles, 2 doubles) against Minnesota in Kansas City's home finale on September 27 . . . he was 8-for-13 (.615) in 3 consecutive games against the Twins with 3 doubles included . . . he also had a 3-run game . . . Floyd first came to the majors after an excellent season at Rochester in 1968 . . . he was selected as the shortstop on the National Association AAA-East All-Star team . . . he made 3 double plays against Detroit on September 25 in his first major league start . . . he filled in at the 3 infield positions while with the 1969 American League champion Orioles . . . Bob started 1970 at Rochester, then won promotion to the Orioles on May 31 . . . he won defensive honors at shortstop 2 other times in the minors . . . he led the Eastern League in fielding (.956), putouts (230) and assists (382) in 1966 and paced the Northwest League with his 260 putouts in 1965 . . . he captained the baseball and football teams at Ed Segundo High School and played baseball at UCLA before signing for Baltimore's Ed Burke . . . Bob played for Estrellas in the Dominican Republic last winter . . . he was selected for the All-Star Game and had a triple and single.

Bob, 6-5, 228, was born March 3, 1942, at Stockton, Calif., where he lives with wife Carol and their children, Bobby (5-15-64), Jackie (2-22-66) and Kristen (9-8-70) . . . nicknamed Baldi, he owns a Bachelor of Arts Degree in History from Santa Clara . . . he works in a produce house and officiates basketball in the off-season.

Garibaldi, obtained on October 19, 1970, from San Francisco's Phoenix farm club for Omaha catcher Fran Healy, will seek a starting job with the Royals . . . he has been considered a solid prospect ever since he signed one of baseball's biggest bonus contracts with the Giants after a brilliant 1962 season as a sophomore at Santa Clara . . . he was a flamethrower at the time . . . he now has matured as a pitcher, using breaking pitches and excellent control to great advantage . . . the Royals believe he may be ready after an excellent season at Phoenix where he tied the modern day (since 1958) Pacific Coast League record for complete games and had the league's second best earned run average . . . only 2 pitchers in the league won more games . . . he was named the righthanded pitcher on the PCL All-Star team . . . he had the sixth best ERA and shared the lead in wins in the PCL in 1969 despite being on the disabled list for a month after breaking a bone in his hand . . . he also won the Rawlings Silver Glove as the top fielding pitcher (58 perfect chances) in the minor leagues . . . he earned his only major league start on October 1, 1969, in Candlestick Park against San Diego . . . he lost 9-4 although allowing only 1 earned run . . . he also earned a trip to Japan with the Giants for spring training last year . . . aside from 1964 when he was on the disabled list much of the year, Garibaldi has averaged nearly 200 innings in 6 full seasons while working exclusively at the Triple A and major league levels . . . 1962 was a "dream" year for him . . . he drew national attention for leading Santa Clara to second place in the College World Series where he was named the Most Valuable Player

. . . then he signed with San Francisco's Tom Sheehan and spent the rest of the year with the Giants, who won the National League pennant in a playoff from the Los Angeles Dodgers . . . that meant Garibaldi was eligible for the professional World Series the same year he starred in the similar college event . . . for Santa Clara, he pitched in 5 of the 6 games in the College World Series and at one time had 20-2/3 consecutive scoreless innings . . . he entered the semifinals against Texas with Santa Clara trailing 3-1 in the third and pitched 7-2/3 innings of 2-hit, shutout ball, striking out 12, as the Broncos won in 10, 4-3 . . . he entered the finals with a tie game in the eighth and hurled 7 shutout innings before Michigan scored in the 15th for a 5-4 championship . . . his season record was 10-3, including a no-hitter over Southern Cal. . . . he was given second team all-America recognition . . . Bob also played basketball at Santa Clara after a career at Stockton's Amos Alonzo Stagg High School . . . older brother Dick is basketball coach at Santa Clara.

R-R HEDLUND, MICHAEL DAVID (P) #32

Mike, 6-1, 185, was born August 11, 1946, at Dallas, Tex. . . . Arlington, Tex., now is home for Mike, Shirley and daughter Gina (11-19-68) . . . he has attended the University of Texas at Arlington and TCU and enjoys mechanical work . . . a nickname is Booger Red or just Red because of his red hair.

Hedlund, chosen from Cleveland in the expansion draft's fifth round, is coming off a frustrating season caused by a viral infection he contacted during a brilliant winter league season in Venezuela . . . he was counted on as the No. 4 starter . . . instead, he was on the disabled list when the season started . . . he was weak from the weight loss—which amounted to almost 30 pounds at one time—and couldn't pitch more than a short time . . . he was activated 2 weeks into the season and won 2 of 5 decisions in 9 relief stints (his longest stint was for 5 innings against Baltimore on April 24), but still was obviously under par . . . he was sent to Omaha on May 19 where he helped the Triple A Royals to a championship . . . the Royals prescribed a winter of rest to assure a full recovery, which apparently has been achieved . . . a thorough physical about January 1 gave him a clean bill of health which projects him back into contention for a starting job in '71 . . . Mike had alternated between starting and all sorts of relief work in 1969 . . . he finished with a 1.61 ERA his final 5 appearances, 4 of them Royal wins . . . included in his hot finish was a game at Minnesota on September 13 in which he relieved Roger Nelson after 1 inning and blanked the eventual Western Division champs on 2 singles the next 6 innings before going out for a pinch hitter . . . 5 days later, Mike got his first complete game, a 7-hit, 6-1 win over Oakland . . . he matched his major league high of 8 strikeouts in that one . . . but Hedlund only worked 125 innings for the year and it was agreed winter ball would help him . . . he went to LaGuaire and didn't give up an earned run his first 53 innings . . . the previous Venezuelan record was 27 innings . . . after 66 innings, he had a 0.14 ERA . . . he won the ERA title at 0.75 and had a 10-3 record although the illness first struck during the season . . . Mike's first win came in his first major league start . . . he led Seattle in the April 22, 1969, contest 2-1 with a 2-hitter after 7 when he had to leave because of a stomach injury suffered when a Don Mincher line drive hit him . . . the Royals liked Mike in 1968 . . . working for last place Waterbury in the Eastern League, he won a trio of 1-0 games, each with a 1-hitter . . . Thurman Munson broke one up with a 2-2 count and 2 out in the ninth . . . that was 4 years after Bobby Goff signed Mike for Cleveland and 3 years after he had ridden the Indian bench because of the bonus rule . . . his amateur work included being the Connie Mack World Series all-star pitcher in 1963 . . . he had 6 no-hitters, including 2 perfect games, in amateur programs

Gail, 5-10, 200, was born February 19, 1943, at Tulsa, Okla., and makes his home at Elmhurst, Ill., with wife Carol and their children, Leah (12-1-67) and Gail, Jr. (10-29-69) . . . nicknamed Hop, he has a Bachelor of Science Degree in Biology and a Masters Degree in Religion from Pepperdine College in Los Angeles, has attended UCLA and last winter studied at Chicago's Illinois Institute of Technology where he is working toward a PhD in Biochemistry . . . Gail has taught school, and is a consultant for the Mickey Owen Baseball School at Miller, Mo.

Hopkins, who came to the Royals last October 13 with John Matias from the Chicago White Sox in a trade for Don O'Riley and Pat Kelly, brings to Kansas City one of the American League's best pinch-hitting records . . . he figures to be a key man in that role for the Royals, too, although he also will see first base duty, and will provide catching depth . . . his .278 average (10-for-36) was the best in the AL for any player who had as many pinch hitting appearances (42) in 1970 as he did . . . over 2 years, Gail ranks fourth in the league among pinch hitters who have had 50 or more at bats . . . Ed Stroud has been tops (20-63, .317), followed by Pete Ward (27-90, .300), Rick Renick (15-51, .294) and Hopkins (16-57, .281) . . . his 3-year totals are 20-for-77 for a .260 average (a 4-for-20 his first year brought it down) . . . a broken index finger on his throwing hand probably kept him from a better average in 1969 . . . it bothered him for 2 months, cut his average from around .300 and sent him to the bench for awhile . . . one major asset is his ability to make contact . . . he has fanned just 50 times in 697 major league at bats . . . he drew 100 walks (third best in the league) at Lynchburg in 1967, yet fanned only 27 times . . . Gail ranked high the only two times he had enough plate appearances to qualify for a batting title . . . he was seventh in the Florida State League in 1965 and third in the Carolina League 2 years later . . . he was the Florida State League all-star catcher and paced the backstops in fielding (.985), putouts (961) and assists (85) that first year . . . E. S. (Doc) Bennett signed him for the White Sox after he caught for Pepperdine in 1964 and 1965 and led the team in hitting with a .400 plus average each year . . . he also was a starting guard in basketball . . . Gail coached the Pepperdine baseball team in 1968 and was elected to the school's Hall of Fame in 1969 . . . he previously attended Jordon High School in Long Beach, Calif.

Trainer Bill Jones Starts Second Decade

Bill is beginning his second decade as a major league baseball trainer in the same city in which he started.

Jones has been with the Royals since their first year in 1969. He started with the Kansas City Athletics in 1961, then moved with the A's to Oakland in 1968.

He spent 3 years at Little Rock, Ark., and Shreveport, La., before be became the A's trainer.

Bill was the trainer for Puerto Rican League champion Caguas last winter.

L-L KEOUGH, JOSEPH WILLIAM (OF) #16

Joe, 6-0, 185, was born January 7, 1946, at Pomona, Calif., now lives at Overland Park, Kan., with wife Becky, daughter Tracy (3-17-67) and son Graig (6-7-70) . . . a former student at Mount San Antonio Junior College in Walnut, Calif., and Arizona State University, he has worked for the Royals the last 2 winters . . . Joe is active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Keough, who was selected from Oakland as the Royals' fourth pick in the expansion draft, was on his way to a banner season in 1970 when struck down by injury . . . a fine future still is predicted . . . the injury was suffered in a home plate slide in the second game of a doubleheader against California in Kansas City on June 28 . . . he detached a ligament in his right knee, fractured the fibula just below the knee and dislocated his ankle . . . Dr. Paul Meyer, the team physician, performed surgery the next day . . . Joe had to miss the final 3 months, but early indications are he will be able to resume his rightfield job . . . should the leg cause any problem, he could be moved to first base where he also is adept . . . Joe was the No. 6 hitter in the league when injured . . . ironically, he had gotten his opportunity to play regularly when Lou Piniella injured a foot on May 8 . . . he made the most of it with a brilliant .447 (21-47) streak the next 12 games (he hit safely in 11 of them) . . . Joe batted .338 until his own injury, and hit safely in 32 of 43 games . . . he was Kansas City's player-of-the-month for May for hitting .357 and had a 4-hit game at Chicago on May 17 . . . he is solid defensively, too . . . Keough had experienced difficulty at the plate in 1969 despite an exciting start when his long pinch single to right in the 12th gave the Royals a 4-3 win over Minnesota on April 8 in their first regular season game ever . . . he had 7 hits his first 12 at bats, then went into a tailspin which included an 0-for-44 streak . . . he eventually went to Omaha and again became a .300 hitter . . . Joe broke into the majors spectacularly for Oakland . . . it was at Yankee Stadium on August 7, 1968 . . . he became the 10th player in major league history to debut with a pinch home run when he connected off Lindy McDaniel . . . only 36 others had homered in their first at bat . . . Joe had an exceptional second pro season in 1967 in the Florida State League . . . he was the pacesetter in hits, home runs, runs batted in and total bases (241) and was second in runs and tied for second in doubles . . . he easily made the all-league team . . . Art Lilly, now a Royals scout, and Don Lindeberg signed Joe for the Kansas City Athletics after standout prep and college successes . . . he was a 4-sport star at Pomona's Ganesha High School, then helped Mount San Antonio to a state baseball title and was an All-America quarterback . . . he threw 20 touchdown passes . . . older brother Marty, now a scout-manager for San Diego, played in the majors . . . another brother, Tom, also played pro baseball.

L-R KIRKPATRICK, EDGAR LEON (C-OF) #8

Ed, 6-0, 200, was born October 8, 1944, at Spokane, Wash., and now lives in Anaheim, Calif., with wife Judy and sons Jeff (9-24-64), Steve (2-12-66) and Dave (2-4-67) . . . a nickname is Spanky . . . he spent 2½ weeks last winter touring military hospital bases in Japan, Guam, Okinawa and the Philippines for the USO.

Kirkpatrick, a December 12, 1968, acquisition along with Dennis Paepke in a trade which sent Hoyt Wilhelm to California, developed into the Royals' No. 1 catcher in mid-June last year, and held the job the remainder of the season . . . it was an unusual turn of events . . . he has been a catcher off-and-on during the 9 seasons he has been in the major leagues, but he developed to his most effective stage last year . . . he didn't catch an inning last season (even in spring training) until May 2 . . . he was used occasionally for the next 6 weeks, then started catching regularly on June 14 . . . he caught all or part of 81 of the remaining 106 games . . . he has played the infield and has good skills in the outfield, so he may again play several positions in 1971 . . . his last 76 games in the outfield dating back to June 13, 1969, have been errorless . . . he had several accomplishments as a catcher . . . he had more RBI than any catcher in the American League, although some of his actually came while at other positions . . . he shared the league lead in double plays with Paul Casanova—each had 12—and was fourth in assists with 61 . . . the trio ahead of him caught 117 or more games; he caught only 89 . . . he had his best home run and RBI season in 1970 . . . he ranked third on the team in RBI for the second year in a row, and was second in home runs . . . he had a pair of 4-RBI games, including August 13 at Boston when he hit his first major league grand slam, had 4 singles against Oakland in the first game on September 13 and hit 2 homers for the fourth time with KC against Oakland on August 9 . . . Ed had a great finish in 1969 . . . he hit .311 after the All-Star Game and .343 in September . . . in his last 3 games, he had 9 hits in 11 official at bats (he walked another time), scored 6 times, drove in 11 runs, had 1 double, 1 triple, 4 home runs and 3 game-winning hits . . . 7 of the hits were in succession . . . he was on base 9 consecutive times and 10 of 12, (11 counting 1 force out) . . . he had 11 and 12 total bases in consecutive games against Chicago and California to fall 2 shy of tying the major league record shared by Ty Cobb and Joe Adcock . . . the 6 extra base hits in 2 games tied the American League mark held by many players, and was 1 short of the major league record . . . Ed had another great spree for Quad Cities in 1962 . . . he drove in 24 runs his last 7 games . . . he set a California record for most pinch hits in a season in 1968 with 14-for-42 . . . Tufie Hashem and Walter Storm signed him for the Angels after a 3-sport career at Glendora (Calif.) High School.

R-R MARTINEZ, JOHN ALBERT (C) #21

Buck, 5-11, 190, was born November 7, 1948, at Redding, Calif., . . . he now calls Kansas City home . . . he is single, has attended Sacramento State College and Sacramento City College.

Martinez, obtained with Tommy Smith and Mike Sinnerud for John Jones from Houston on December 16, 1968, is back in baseball fulltime after spending most of the 1970 season in the military . . . an excellent prospect, he shared the Kansas City catching job the second half of 1969 when only 20 years old, but went into the Army near the end of spring training last year . . . Kansas City reactivated him on August 10, but he saw little duty because of the layoff . . . he reported to the Florida Instructional League in mid-September where he played 10 games (he had a grand slam and 7 RBI while going 4-for-29) until the Puerto Rican League season started . . . then he joined Frank Robinson's Santurce club as the No. 1 catcher . . . he showed steady improvement and was the starting catcher for the "imports" in the All-Star Game . . . spring training will determine whether he needs more seasoning . . . 1969 had a storybook aspect to it . . . Buck reported from Sacramento State College in early June with only 2 short Class A seasons of experience in which he had hit .339 in 121 games . . . he was activated June 17 and pinch hit in both games of a doubleheader the next day . . . he singled the second time up . . . after 2 more pinch hit assignments, he started for the first time on June 28 against Minnesota . . . he slammed a 415-foot home run off Dave Boswell his second time up . . . it made him one of the youngest players ever to homer in his first starting role . . . he also twice blocked Twins runners for outs at home plate . . . the next day he had 3 singles in 4 at bats against the Twins . . . he wound up with 3 hits in 4 of the first 18 games he caught . . . his performance earned him a share of the Sacramento man-of-the-year award with Bob Oliver . . . his first 2 seasons were in the Philadelphia chain . . . Eddie Bockman had signed him . . . he was second in the Northwest League in hitting his rookie year, tied for the assists lead for catchers (40) and made the all-league club . . . he prepped at Elk Grove, Calif., then was most valuable player at Sacramento State.

Tommy, 6-0, 175, was born September 7, 1943, at Hazelton, Pa., and makes his home at Drifton, Pa., with wife Linda and their children, Brian (2-5-69) and Heather (9-20-70) . . . a nickname is Mattey . . . he was a jewelry salesman in the off-season.

Matchick, who came to the Royals from Boston in a trade for Mike Fiore on May 29, 1970, had a chopped up season in 1970 . . . he found himself out of action frequently because of injuries and military duty . . . he was used primarily at shortstop when available, but also played second and third base . . . he probably will play all 3 spots in '71, too . . . Tommy's first injury last year forced him to miss 10 days of spring training with torn ligaments in his right ankle . . . this didn't help his chances of seeing much action with the Red Sox . . . when traded to Kansas City, he was ticketed for considerable duty, but suffered a slight fracture of the right thumb catching a hard hit ball in an infield workout at Washington . . . the pre-game injury was suffered the same day as the trade was made and Matchick went on the disabled list for 3 weeks . . . it was only a month later that he had to leave for 2 weeks of military duty . . . his .984 fielding percentage was the best for any American League shortstop who appeared in 30 or more games . . . he made just 3 errors in 44 games . . . Tommy had a strong debut in his first start for KC . . . he handled 13 chances, including 10 assists, at Oakland on June 22 . . . his offensive value is enhanced by his hitting left-handed . . . he had a .500 pinch hitting average for Detroit in 1969 . . . he was 8-for-16 and had 4 RBI . . . the average was the best in the league for players who had 10 or more at bats in pinch roles . . . he probably is best known for his infield play with the Tigers in '68 when they won the World Championship . . . 2 of his top thrills came that year . . . one was a pinch homer off Moe Drabowsky which beat Baltimore . . . the other was a triple play from pitcher Denny McLain to shortstop Matchick to first baseman Norm Cash . . . at Toledo in 1967, he hit 3 home runs in 1 game against Richmond . . . he was 5-for-6 in the game and had 6 RBI . . . St. Louis scout Ollie Vanek originally signed him out of Hazletownship High School.

John, 6-0, 185, was born August 15, 1944, at Honolulu, Hawaii, where he and his wife Pauline live with son John, Jr., (4-24-66), and daughter Robin, (11-17-68) . . . he and Atlanta's Mike Lum are the only native Hawaiians in the major leagues . . . John has coached and officiated basketball during the off-season when not playing winter ball . . . nicknames are Gido and Pineapple.

Matias, acquired with Gail Hopkins from the Chicago White Sox for Pat Kelly and Don O'Riley on October 13, 1970, rates a "sleeper" role for 1970 . . . he has labored 8 years in pro ball and has played just 58 major league games, but should now be reaching his potential . . . his credentials include a very good glove at first base, ability in the outfield and a bat that has carried him to a .300 plus average in Triple A the last 2 seasons . . . he has shown some power . . . Matias led the White Sox in hitting last spring training with a .388 average, then started several times at first base in the early weeks of the season . . . he spent the middle portion of the year at Tucson, where he produced the fourth .300 average of his career . . . he had been the Pacific Coast League's fourth leading hitter in 1969, and had ranked second in total bases (241) and runs batted in, and led outfielders in assists (22) . . . Matias was named to the league and National Association Class AAA-West all-star teams . . . the late Fred Hofmann, a Baltimore scout, first signed him after an illustrious prep career . . . he was an immediate star in the Appalachian League . . . his .433 average easily was the best in the rookie league, but he lacked 81 plate appearances of qualifying for the title . . . John played in the All-Star Game . . . he was sixth in batting in the Midwest League the next year, led first basemen in fielding (.988), putouts (842), chances accepted (895) and double plays (72) and made the all-star team . . . hitting exploits include 5 home runs one week for Stockton in 1966 and 6 triples and 4 homers in a 7-game span for Lynchburg . . . his best power day probably was the Hawaiian state high school championship game when his 4 homers and 9 runs batted in gave Farrington the title . . . the score was 9-0 . . . he also played basketball and football, is an excellent swimmer and surf-board rider . . . John went to Chicago along with Luis Aparicio after the 1967 season . . . new teammate Roger Nelson went to Baltimore in the same 6-player deal . . . an extensive youth baseball background included playing on a national championship Pony League team and an American Legion club which advanced to the Legion World Series . . . he played in Venezuela last winter.

R-R MAY, JERRY LEE (C) #18

Jerry, 6-2, 200, was born December 14, 1943, at Staunton, Va., where he lives with wife Juanita and son Jeff (11-20-65) . . . he is in public relations and sales for a ready-mix concrete firm in the winter.

May, obtained in the 6-player swap with Pittsburgh on December 2, 1970, in which the Royals also received Fred Patek and Bruce Dal Canton for Bob Johnson, Jack Hernandez and Jimmy Campanis, is an experienced catcher of proven ability . . . he fits the mold of what the Royals wanted in that he hits right-handed and is an excellent handler of young pitching so he is certain to see considerable duty . . . Jerry is well-rounded defensively . . . he owns a rifle arm, blocks the plate very well and is a take-charge type . . . he can catch every day, and was No. 1 for the Pirates in 1967, 1968 and until mid-July of 1969 when injuries spoiled his season . . . May best displayed his durability in 1968 when he caught 135 games . . . he refused to leave the lineup despite bruised knees and legs and thigh, shoulder, arm, neck and finger injuries . . . an x-ray attendant told May he fractured a little finger and had a bone chip in his thumb when the catcher reported to a Philadelphia hospital after taking a foul tip . . . Jerry caught the next night . . . he had caught 110 games the year before even though he spent some time on the disabled list in mid-season with a broken middle finger on his right hand . . . Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh said he could be the No. 1 catcher for several teams . . . he was available in the trade only because of rapid development of Manny Sanguillen, whom Pittsburgh calls the second best catcher in baseball . . . May didn't play much last summer, but had held onto the regular job in 1969 until he bruised his left thigh on July 14 when he crashed into a dugout in Montreal . . . the ambulance taking him to the hospital was involved in an accident, too, and Jerry suffered injuries to his right arm and shoulder . . . the arm injury forced May to the disabled list 2 weeks later, and he caught only 8 more games . . . Jerry showed his best power early in that 1969 season . . . his best year offensively was 1967 . . . he was a .300 hitter early that year . . . he was hitting .270 in mid-June of 1968 before the injuries struck . . . Jerry's best offensive days in 1970 came against the Dodgers when he broke up games with singles in the 12th and 16th inning . . . his only homer was in the season finale against St. Louis . . . May's first major league start was something special . . . Bob Veale set the all-time Pirate single game strikeout record that night . . . Jerry started in the Pirate organization, signing for Syd Thrift, now director of the Royals' Baseball Academy . . . an outstanding year at Columbus in 1965 vaulted him to the majors for keeps . . . he led International League catchers in defense (.985), and had only 1 passed ball in the 82 games he caught . . . he had led New York-Penn League receivers in assists (70) in 1962 and paced the Sally League in assists (65) and putouts (722) the next year . . . he was Asheville's most popular player in 1964 . . . a pitcher-outfielder and a basketball player, he won 8 letters at North River High School in Mt. Solon, Va. . . . he hurled 6 no-hitters in American Legion play . . . his father and a brother have played pro ball.

R-R MONTEAGUDO, AURELIO FAUSTINO (P) #25

Monty, 5-11, 180, was born November 19, 1943, at Caribarien, Las Villas, Cuba . . . he and wife Reina now call Barquisimeto, Lara, Venezuela, home.

Monteagudo, purchased by Omaha from San Diego's Salt Lake City farm club on April 5, 1970, was with the Royals from June 11 on last season . . . he primarily was a middle inning reliever, a role he may retain this summer . . . he logged his first major league win in an unusual manner . . . it came June 15 against Boston . . . he threw only 1 pitch, but it came with the bases loaded and 2 out in the top of the ninth and Sparky Lyle popped to Monteagudo on a bunt attempt . . . the Royals rallied for 3 runs in the bottom of the ninth to win, 7-6 . . . that was his third appearance with the Royals . . . he had a scoreless streak of 14 innings in 12 appearances and part of another from July 6-September 21 and held the opposition without an earned run in 17 of 18 appearances from the June 15 game until September 21 . . . he twice worked 3 innings, but never more . . . Monty actually is back on familiar ground in Kansas City . . . he first pitched in the majors for the Kansas City A's in 1963 when he was only 19 . . . his rookie season he was the Sophomore League All-Star righthander, and he was second in the Pacific Coast League in strikeouts in 1963 . . . his best performance at Omaha came May 15 against Indianapolis . . . he struck out 10 batters in 5 innings . . . ironically, he suffered his only loss in that game . . . he was beaten 4-3 in 13 innings . . . Monty has had banner seasons in winter baseball the last 2 years . . . he was the most valuable player in the Caribbean World Series in 1970 . . . this year, again pitching for LaGuaire in the Venezuelan League, he was selected for the league All-Star Game and his 2.11 ERA was second best in the league. He had a 7-4 record.

R-R MONTGOMERY, MONTY BRYSON (P) #43

Monty, 6-3, 205, was born September 1, 1946, at Albemarle, N.C., where he still lives . . . he is single, has a Bachelor of Arts Degree in History from Pfeiffer College in Misenheimer, N.C.

Montgomery, who started in the Royals' farm system after being drafted sixth in June of 1968 (it was the Royals' first draft session), made a giant stride from Class A to Triple A last summer, and was a solid success for Omaha . . . his 11 wins paced the balanced Omaha staff and earned him a spot on the American Association all-league team . . . 13 victories was tops in the league . . . he has a definite chance to pitch in the major leagues . . . only time will tell how soon . . . his sinking fastball is of major league velocity, and he has a good slider . . . Monty overcame elbow problems to produce the fine season at Omaha . . . he had a calcium deposit removed in mid-winter a year ago . . . his only problem last summer was a little tenderness in the elbow, and he was kept out of the playoffs and Junior World Series as a precautionary measure . . . his best game also came late in the year . . . it was a 1-hitter against Evansville on August 15 . . . he played baseball, basketball and football in high school at Albemarle . . . he played shortstop and pitched . . . playing the same positions at Pfeiffer College, he was all-conference and all-NAIA District 26 in 1967 . . . he missed most of 1968 with a broken foot suffered while running the bases, but returned in time to win 3 tournament games, including the opener of the NAIA Tournament at St. Joseph, Mo. . . . Syd Thrift signed him for the Royals . . . 2 older brothers were outstanding athletes, too . . . Kent pitched in the San Francisco chain and Don was a first baseman and end at North Carolina State and had a trial with the Buffalo Bills.

R-R MOREHEAD, DAVID MICHAEL (P) #17

Dave, 6-1, 200, was born September 5, 1943, at San Diego, which still is home for him along with wife Pat, son Michael (6-4-67) and daughter Crista (9-13-69) . . . he studies business in the off-season at San Diego State . . . he formerly attended Mesa Junior College.

Morehead, Kansas City's eighth selection in the expansion draft, is one of the Royals' youthful veterans . . . he has 6 full seasons and about half of 2 others in the majors and is only 27 . . . he will be out to regain a starting job in 1971 . . . Dave was in rotation the first 2½ months of '70 —for 14 of his first 15 appearances—until again haunted by an injury . . . this time it was a strained muscle in his rib cage . . . he suffered the injury against California on June 27 and missed the next 3 weeks . . . when he started again on July 19, he reinjured it and got the opening nod only 2 more times—the last on August 7 when he beat Milwaukee 10-2 for his final win . . . the injury healed, but the starting spot had been lost and Dave was a reliever the rest of the way . . . he managed 121 2/3 innings, his biggest major league load since 1965, and it was a vast improvement over 1969 when a groin injury helped limit him to 33 innings . . . Dave had some very strong outings in 1970 . . . he gave up 3 earned runs or less in 14 of his 17 starts, with the 3 exceptions in a row in May . . . he came off that stretch with probably his best game . . . it was a 5-hit, 7-1 win over Chicago on May 25 in which he allowed 3 singles to start the game, then retired 19 consecutive hitters . . . he fanned 7 and didn't walk anybody for the first time in a complete major league game . . . his season strikeout high was 8 in just 5 innings against Baltimore on April 26 . . . Morehead's career started strong and he had 28 major league wins by the time he had barely turned 22 . . . but in 1966 he slipped on a wet mound and suffered agonizing shoulder and arm injuries off-and-on until he joined the Royals . . . the highlight of his career was a no-hit, 2-0 win over Cleveland on September 16, 1965 . . . only a walk to Rocky Colavito in the second inning prevented a perfect game . . . Dave's 5 second half wins in 1967 helped Boston in its drive to the American League pennant . . . he has been the Royals' player representative since June 16, 1970, taking over when Moe Drabowsky was traded . . . Boston's Ray (Ike) Boone signed Dave for a healthy bonus out of San Diego's Herbert Hoover High School . . . that school also produced Boone and Ted Williams.

NO-HITTERS

Carl DeRose of the Kansas City Blues of the American Association hurled the last professional no-hitter in Municipal Stadium when he blanked Minneapolis, 5-0, on June 26, 1947. He faced only 27 batters, making it the first perfect game in American Association history.

Kansas City has been involved in only one no-hitter in its modern major league history. Jack Kralick of the Minnesota Twins no-hit the Athletics, 1-0, at Bloomington on August 26, 1962. He missed a perfect game by only two outs. With one out in the ninth, he walked pinch-hitter George Alusik on a 3-2 pitch. He retired the next two batters on foul pop-ups.

AMERICAN LEAGUE CURFEW

All night games must be called at 1 a.m., local time. However, if an inning is started prior to 1 a.m., it can be completed. Other curfew restrictions are contained in American League Regulation 3.4.

R-R NELSON, ROGER EUGENE (P) #35

Roger, 6-3, 205, was born June 7, 1944, at Altadena, Calif. . . . he now lives in Shawnee Mission, Kan., with wife Marion and sons Billy (5-31-68) and Kyle (9-17-70) . . . Roger has attended Mount San Antonio Junior College in Walnut, Calif. . . . a nickname is Spider, which he picked up for his pass-stealing ability in basketball.

Nelson, the Royals' top choice in the expansion draft, is hoping to make a strong comeback this year, after a summer of near idleness because of a shoulder problem . . . indications are good he will come back after an injury-free 2 months in the Florida Instructional League . . . he can give the Royals a big boost if he can regain a starting job and throw as he did late in 1968 with Baltimore . . . Roger made only 4 appearances in 1970, the last on June 10 . . . he worked only 1/3 of an inning that time . . . he last started at Chicago on May 15 . . . the Royals optioned him to Omaha, but he didn't pitch because doctors decided complete rest would be best . . . he came back in late September and started slowly working out the problem in the instructional league . . . what transpired was very gratifying . . . he reported all of the soreness gone, displayed nearly the same fastball as before and showed an improved slider . . . in 7 starts, he worked 32 innings, gave up 28 hits, fanned 25, walked only 4 and had a 1-1 record and 1.97 ERA . . . he allowed just 2 earned runs the first 28 innings (0.64), and had 16 consecutive scoreless innings over 3 outings including a 1-hitter in a 6-inning outing . . . Jim York finished the 1-hit shutout . . . Roger had been the Royals' workhorse the first 4 months of '69 until he had to take 2 weeks off for military chores . . . he suffered from lack of run support . . . Kansas City was shut out in 6 of his losses and 3 more were by 1 run . . . he had a 3-hitter against Detroit and 4-hitters against California and Seattle, the latter a game in which he struck out 7, a high for him in Kansas City . . . Roger had come into prominence late in 1968 . . . it started on August 25 when he blanked Boston on 2 hits for 7 innings of relief in an 18-inning game . . . he won, 3-2 . . . he started after that . . . he had 6 no-hit innings against Boston in which he fanned 13 and a 2-1 win over Denny McLain when the Detroit ace had a 31-5 record . . . Chicago White Sox scout E. S. (Doc) Bennett originally signed Roger . . . in his second year, he retired 28 consecutive batters from the second to the 11th innings of a 2-1, 17-inning loss to Daytona Beach . . . Roger hurled the first 14 innings and struck out 22.

R-R NORTHEY, SCOTT RICHARD (OF) #44

Scott, 6-0, 170, was born October 15, 1946, at Philadelphia, Pa., now calls Stamford, Conn., home . . . his wife's name is Susan . . . Scott works as a salesman for a department store during the off-season.

Northey, a sixth round choice from the Chicago White Sox in the expansion draft, will again make a bid to land a position as an outfielder in '71 . . . he got off to a slow start at Omaha in 1970 and went to Elmira where he regained his form in the latter part of the season . . . he had advanced rapidly in his first year in the Royals' organization . . . he started in the Class A Carolina League, earned an advancement to the Triple A American Association and was in the majors on September 2 . . . he got a single off Mickey Lolich in his first at bat . . . his best game probably was against Chicago when he had 2 triples, a single, scored 3 runs, drove in another and stole a base . . . for Omaha, he hit for the cycle against Indianapolis . . . his outstanding speed enabled him to steal 33 bases for the 3 teams . . . he frequently timed 3.9 seconds running to first base . . . he has played in the Florida Instructional League the last 2 winters . . . in 1970, he hit .267 with 27-for-101 . . . Scott signed originally as a shortstop with White Sox Scout Fred Shaffer . . . he was unbeaten in track his senior year at Dormont (Pa.) High School . . . he is the son of Ron Northey, former major leaguer with the Phillies, Cardinals, Cubs, Reds and White Sox.

R-R OLIVER, ROBERT LEE (1B) #33

Bob, 6-2, 215, was born February 8, 1943, at Shreveport, La. . . he now lives in Kansas City, Mo., with wife Hazel and sons Tony (2-18-68) and Darren (10-6-70) . . . he has attended American River Junior College in Sacramento, Calif.

Oliver, a second round choice from Minnesota in the expansion draft, enjoyed a banner season in 1970 . . . he marked himself as the Royals' best power hitter and one of the American League's most powerful newcomers . . . his 99 runs batted in ranked eighth in the league, and his 27 homers shared ninth place . . . Bob more than doubled his rookie output in both categories . . . he should have his best years ahead of him . . . the impressive figures were produced even though Oliver's defensive responsibilities were shifted back and forth from first to third base on various occasions through June 15 . . . he moved to first base after that . . . in 1969, Bob had spent most of his time in the outfield . . . he was over .300 most of the first 2½ months, including a .301 mark as late as June 23 . . . his power was so important he played 133 consecutive games from May 3-September 23 . . . that may have cost his final average some points . . . he had several streaks in which he had superb production . . . he had 13 RBI in one span of 6 road games and twice hit 5 homers in 6 games . . . 3 times he slugged 2 homers in a single game (vs. Oakland, Baltimore and Detroit), he had a 5-RBI game at Cleveland July 26 and 3 times drove in 4 runs . . . his 16 road home runs fell 1 shy of Bob Cerv's Kansas City record set in 1958 . . . he shared the Royals' player-of-the-month award with Amos Otis in April and won it himself in July when he set club records with 7 homers and 22 RBI . . . his best day ever was on May 4, 1969, at California when he collected 6 consecutive hits (4 singles, double, home run) . . . he was the 37th player in major league history to achieve the feat . . . no one had done it in almost 4 years . . . Bob became the 20th AL player since 1900 to collect 6 hits in as many at bats in a 9-inning game . . . only 7 times had an AL hitter had more total bases on a 6-hit performance than Bob's 10, and 4 of those were in extra inning games . . . none had had more on 6 hits in 9 innings since Ty Cobb collect 16 total bases on May 5, 1925 . . . Oliver had a single his last time at bat the day before so his string was 7 consecutive hits . . . he was 11-for-16 (.688) in the series . . . in 8 games, he was 16-for-31 and had an amazing .903 slugging percentage on 28 total bases . . . he had an extraordinary minor league career before joining the Royals . . . he had played all infield and outfield positions and had averaged 15 homers and just over 80 RBI a year . . . he had various honors . . . he played in the Western Carolinas League All-Star Game his rookie year and was named to the Topps Triple A-West all-star outfield in 1968 . . . he is a member of the American River Hall of Fame for his play in baseball and basketball . . . that came after a prep career at Highlands, Calif. . . . Bob signed with Pittsburgh's Bob Fontaine in 1963 . . . he just finished a banner season for pennant-winning Caguas in the Puerto Rican League . . . he led the league in RBI with 52, was sixth in batting with a .285 average and hit 15 homers . . . he played in the All-Star Game, made the all-league team and was runnerup as the outstanding player.

SOLID 1-2 PUNCH

The 187 RBI collected by Bob Oliver (99) and Lou Piniella (88) in 1970 rank them as Kansas City's second best 1-2 punch. The only better production was in 1962 when Norm Siebern (117) and Jerry Lumpe (83) drove in 200 runs.

R-R OTIS, AMOS JOSEPH (OF) #26

Amos, 5-11, 166, was born April 26, 1947, at Mobile, Ala. . . . he now lives in Shawnee Mission, Kan., with wife Belva and sons Barry (8-31-67) and Don (4-2-70) . . . he worked for the Royals last winter.

Otis, obtained on December 3, 1969, along with Bob Johnson in a trade which sent Joe Foy to the New York Mets, made an outstanding debut in the American League last summer . . . it was his first full major league season, and when the year was over he was recognized as one of the best new talents to come along in some time . . . the centerfielder is considered very nearly a complete player although he still was only 23 when 1971 started . . . he ranked among the league's best in every area but home runs, and 11 homers wasn't bad for a first year considering Kansas City's spacious outfield . . . he tied Tony Oliva and Cesar Tovar for the doubles lead, ranked third in triples, tied for seventh in hits, shared 13th in runs, placed 18th in hitting (only Thurman Munson was better among those in their first full season) and was fifth in stolen bases . . . defensively, he led all major league outfielders in putouts (388) and total chances (407), led the AL in double plays (6) and shared the lead in assists (15) . . . he played 112 major league games in the outfield before he made an error on June 21 when a quick throw to third skipped away . . . his other errors were on a similar play, a bobbled hit and a dropped liner after a long run . . . his career OF percentage is .992 with 456 putouts and 20 assists . . . he enters '71 with a string of 72 errorless games . . . Amos' most amazing stat may be his thefts . . . he wasn't thrown out on a solo theft effort . . . he was charged with being caught stealing twice—once when picked off and the other trying to take home on a double steal . . . he has a perfect 18-for-18 streak since June 28 . . . he was 1-for-1 in thefts in '69, 0-for-4 in '67 . . . he stole 3 bases against the Yankees on June 13, 1970 . . . other offensive accomplishments included collecting 1 extra base hit in 7 consecutive games (2 doubles, 3 triples, 2 home runs) and being on base with a hit or walk in 136 of the 159 games he played (he never went more than 2 games without being on) . . . he didn't go more than 12 official at bats or 3 games without a hit and he managed a 5-hit game (4 singles, 1 double) against Cleveland on May 1 . . . Amos played the first 42 games, rested 1, then played 117 more until injuring his ribs . . . he missed the last 2 games . . . he shared the player-of-the-month award with Bob Oliver in April, then won it outright in June . . . in July, he became the Royals' first player ever to appear in an All-Star Game . . . he played centerfield the final 6 innings, and it was his throw which nearly prevented Pete Rose from scoring the winning run . . . he had hit safely in 38 of his last 45 games before the All-Star contest . . . Otis hasn't always played centerfield . . . he started as a shortstop and the New York Mets played him at third base some in '69 . . . he had 3 solid seasons in the International League . . . in '67, he was second in stolen bases and played in the All-Star Game . . . he was the all-league centerfielder in '68, played in the All-Star Game and was named to the National Association Triple A-East all-star club . . . after 2 months with the Mets in '69, he returned and posted the league's second best average although he didn't have sufficient at bats to qualify for the title . . . he made only 1 error in 69 games in the outfield . . . his 3-year log in the league included 69 stolen bases in just 87 attempts . . . Edward Scott had signed Amos for Boston and that first year he was fifth in the Appalachian League in batting and led third basemen in fielding (.910), chances accepted (122), assists (76) and double plays (13) . . . he was the New York-Penn League all-star first baseman the next season before the Mets drafted him . . . Amos prepped at Williamson High School in Mobile.

R-R PATEK, FREDDIE JOE (SS) #24

Fred, 5-4, 140, was born October 9, 1944, in Oklahoma City . . . he spent most of his early years in Seguin, Tex., and more recently called Pittsburgh home although he and wife Jerri moved to Overland Park, Kan., prior to spring training . . . a nickname is Midg.

Patek, the major league's smallest player, is expected to assume the Royals' shortstop job for years to come . . . a little man who doesn't let the lack of size hurt him, he was the big man in the 6-player swap with Pittsburgh on December 2 which also brought Bruce Dal Canton and Jerry May to Kansas City for Bob Johnson, Jimmy Campanis and Jack Hernandez . . . Fred covers shortstop well, exhibits both quickness and speed and has a strong arm . . . he's also rated an excellent bunter and a fine hustler . . . he has shown the ability to hit for an average in the majors . . . Patek was an instant success—and fan favorite—when the Pirates called him up on June 3, 1968 . . . in 15 days, he had helped the Bucs to a 9-game winning streak and was hitting .281 when a Don Drysdale pitch hit him on the left wrist

. . . x-rays didn't reveal a fracture so he played 9 more games, but his average dropped . . . new x-rays showed a hairline fracture which disabled him for 3 weeks . . . he hit a home run in Houston the day he returned, but the wrist wasn't right and it took off-season surgery for the removal of a small bone to correct it . . . he bounced back to become the Pirates' regular shortstop in 1969 and saw considerable duty last summer when he hit .288 through July . . . he will get ample opportunity to run in 1971, possibly as a leadoff hitter . . . he can run extremely well . . . Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh says Patek's baserunning ability often creates a "murmur from the stands" when the shortstop is on base . . . "the fans expect something to happen" . . . he could become one of the league's top theft artists and team with Amos Otis for an excellent 1-2 combination . . . Fred stole 41 times in the equivalent of 2 seasons with Pittsburgh, a non-running club . . . he was caught only 17 times . . . he led the International League in stolen bases in 1967, and was second in the Western Carolinas League in 1966 although he played in only 75 games out of a possible 126 . . . he was leading the International League again in 1968 when called up . . . he also led the IL in sacrifices (10) in 1967 and was voted the fastest runner and the infielder with the best arm . . . he can surprise with occasional power . . . his first home run on June 15, 1968, cleared the 406 mark at Forbes Field . . . his only 1970 homer was a 3-run job against the Mets on August 7 which broke up a tight game . . . he also plays second and third base and the outfield . . . Dodger Manager Walt Alston has called him the most underrated player in the National League . . . he was a free agent draft choice by the Pirates in 1966 and was signed by Larry DeHaven . . . Fred played baseball at Seguin (Tex.) High School, where he earned all-state honors . . . he just finished playing winter ball for ex-teammate Roberto Clemente at San Juan, Puerto Rico . . . he hit nearly .350 in the regular season.

R-R PINIELLA, LOUIS VICTOR (OF) #9

Lou, 6-2, 197, was born August 28, 1943, at Tampa, Fla., and now makes his home at Overland Park, Kan., with wife Anita and son Lou, Jr. (1-11-69) . . . he works as an investment banker in the off-season . . . Lou has attended the University of Tampa.

Piniella, acquired from Seattle on April 1, 1969, for John Gelnar and Steve Whitaker, followed his rookie-of-the-year season with an even better sophomore performance last summer . . . he became the Royals' first .300 hitter when he batted .301 . . . no Kansas City hitter had hit the .300 mark since 1962 . . . Lou's mark tied him for eighth in the American League, and improved his stature as one of the league's most able hitters . . . his RBI total reached 88, but would have been even more impressive except he missed 24 days of regular action with a foot injury suffered while crossing the plate in Detroit . . . the injury occurred on May 8 when Lou had a 14-game hitting streak and had driven in 13 runs in 7 consecutive contests . . . he was limited to 5 pinch-hitting appearances and 1 start until June 2 . . . he extended his hitting streak to 17 consecutive starts . . . that gave him hits in 24 of his first 27 starts . . . Lou was blazing away at a .351 pace (in the top 5 in the league) when injured . . . the average dropped to .294 by June 24 before he could get back in a steady groove . . . he played 85 consecutive games after getting back in the lineup . . . he hit safely in all but 27 of his 144 games with 5 of the misses in pinch-hitting roles . . . Lou never went hitless in more than 2 consecutive starts or for more than 12 at bats . . . he's had only one 3-game hitless streak in starts and another of 4 games in 2 years . . . September was his banner RBI month with 21 . . . they came in his last 23 games and he was named the Royals' player-of-the-month . . . a line drive hitter, he had just 1 home run in that span . . . the leftfielder also helps himself by making excellent contact . . . he had one stretch of 15 games without a single strikeout . . . that covered 58 official at bats . . . he fanned just once in 22 games . . . 1969 had been a "dream" year for Piniella, who had joined the Royals just 3 games before the regular season . . . he won a spot on the Topps Major League Rookie All-Star team, was runnerup to Carlos May in The Sporting News' rookie poll, then topped it all by winning the Baseball Writers Association of America nod as the AL's top rookie . . . he received 9 votes to 6 for Boston's Mike

Nagy . . . Kansas City had never had a BBWAA rookie-of-the-year although shortstop Dick Howser (1961) and pitcher Jim Nash (1966) had won 1 of 2 Sporting News polls . . . Lou's season was exciting from the start . . . he debuted with a homer leading off in the first inning of his first exhibition game for the Royals . . . it was at Clearwater on April 3 . . . he doubled his first time up in the regular season as the Royals' leadoff batter and scored the first run . . . the next 3 times up he singled, then flied out and finished with a walk . . . he drove in the winning run with 2 out in the 17th inning the next night and later collected the Royals' first triple and first 2 home runs in Municipal Stadium . . . he has been a fan favorite ever since . . . honors aren't anything new for Piniella . . . he was Carolina League rookie-of-the-year and an all-star choice in 1963 when he led outfielders in assists (23) . . . he made the all-league team in the Pacific Coast League in 1968 . . . Spud Chandler signed Piniella after he had won All-America basketball honors at Tampa's Jesuit High School and had starred in basketball . . . he won NCAA College Division All-America acclaim in baseball at the University of Tampa.

R-R ROJAS, OCTAVIO RIVAS (2B) #1

Cookie, 5-10, 170, was born March 6, 1939, at Havana, Cuba . . . he calls Miami, Fla., home with wife Candida and their sons, Octavio (5-23-61), Miguel (4-18-63), Victor (2-3-68) and Bobby (11-11-69).

Rojas, who came to Kansas City last June 13 from St. Louis for Omaha infielder-outfielder Fred Rico, is a steadying influence in the Royals' infield . . . he moved right in at second base after joining the team and wasted little time in learning the American League . . . he is very sure-handed, and makes the double play well as evidenced by the Royals' 114 twin killings to only 99 for their opponents after Cookie joined the team even though he played with several shortstops . . . he is a contact hitter, who handles the bat well in clutch situations . . . he had a pair of 4-hit games and twice drove in 4 runs for the Royals . . . he accomplished both feats against Milwaukee on August 7 in the second game of a doubleheader . . . Rojas had a standout career at Philadelphia, capped by his selection in 1969 as the Phillies' greatest second baseman ever . . . they have been in business continuously since 1883 . . . he holds the Philadelphia record for fielding with a .987 percentage in 1968 that led National League second basemen as did his 365 putouts and 110 double plays . . . he made just 10 errors in 789 chances . . . Cookie is a very versatile player although second base has been his primary position . . . he has played all 9 positions, with his pitching confined to a scoreless inning in 1967 . . . his best year probably was 1965 . . . he played in the All-Star Game and hit a career high of .303 . . . he paced the league in sacrifices with 16 in 1967 . . . Felix Millan shaded him out of another fielding title in 1969 . . . each was at .980 . . . in the minors, he led Northern League second basemen in fielding (.966) in 1957 and duplicated in the International League (.968) in 1961 when he also set the pace in putouts (350) and assists (382) . . . Cookie first signed a pro pact for Havana's Armando Llano . . . he went to St. Louis on October 8, 1969, in the 7-player deal that included Richie Allen and Curt Flood . . . Rojas just finished a good year for Caracas in the Venezuelan League where he was a unanimous choice for the league All-Star Game.

R-L ROOKER, JAMES PHILLIP (P) #14

Jim, 5-11, 195, was born September 23, 1942, at Lakeview, Ore. . . . he now lives at Overland Park, Kan., with wife Betty, son David (2-10-61) and daughter Stephanie (7-7-63) . . . nicknames include Supe and Rook . . . Jim made a 2 ½-week tour of hospital bases in Japan, Guam, Okinawa, and the Philippines for the USO last fall, then worked for the Royals before leaving for winter ball.

Rooker, a third round choice from New York in the expansion draft, was the Royals' top winner last summer . . . it marked a jump of 6 victories over his rookie season . . . he could have won even more with a little luck . . . 5 of his losses were by 1 run (he has lost 13 by that margin in 2 seasons) including a 1-0 setback and 3 by a 2-1 score, 2 of them in extra innings . . . with the experience added to his ability to throw about as hard as any southpaw in the American League, it seems likely he should continue to improve . . . Jim hurled 3 shutouts in '70 (only 5 pitchers in the league had more), but his best game undoubtedly was 1 of those 2-1 defeats . . . it was in New York on June 4 . . . he had a no-hitter and a 1-0 lead into the ninth . . . he had walked 4, 1 batter had reached on an error and he had 7 strikeouts . . . Horace Clarke spoiled the no-hitter with a clean single to left on the first pitch in the ninth inning . . . Bobby Murcer followed with a double to tie the score . . . a tiring Rooker left with the bases loaded and 1 out in the 12th and the Yankees won on a sacrifice fly . . . Jim allowed 6 hits . . . he retired the first 16 batters against California on September 8 and finished with a 3-hitter in a 12-0 romp . . . he ranks as one of baseball's best hitting pitchers . . . his best game at the plate last summer was an 8-4 win at Chicago on May 17 . . . he had a bases-loaded double in the second and a game-winning 2-run double in the 11th . . . he struck out a major league high of 9 . . . he has fanned 8 on 3 occasions . . . Jim scattered 9 hits in going the route . . . he made his first mark in the majors on July 7, 1969, at Minnesota when he crashed 2 home runs off Jim Kaat . . . 5 days later he scored his first major league win when he blanked Chicago on 3 singles, 7-0 . . . he had started that season in the Carolina League because of a sore shoulder . . . there is good reason for Jim's hitting prowess . . . he was an outfielder for most of his first 5 pro seasons . . . he had 62 minor league homers, including 19 in the Northern League in 1963 . . . he hit 10 or more 4 seasons and he had 88, 80 and 78 RBI in 1961-63 . . . he shared the triples lead in the New York-Penn League with 13 in 1961 and led the Northern League with 11 in 1963 . . . his .958 percentage was tops for outfielders in the NYP circuit and he paced 3 leagues in assists and 2 in putouts . . . Rook won Topps Triple A-East all-star accolades in 1968 . . . Detroit Scout Jack Fournier signed him, and he first made his way into a Tiger uniform late in '66 although he didn't get in any games . . . Detroit sold him to the Yankees right after the 1968 season . . . he played for Caguas the last month of the Puerto Rican season . . . he earned 3 of Caguas' 4 semifinal playoff wins and crashed a grand slam.

R-R SCHAAL, PAUL (3B) #10

Paul, 5-11, 185, was born March 3, 1943, at Pittsburgh, Pa., and now lives in Fountain Valley, Calif., with wife Billie . . . he obtained a real estate license last winter.

Schaal, chosen from California in the third round of the expansion draft, blossomed the last 2 months of 1970 when given a chance to play fulltime at third base . . . he had been in and out of the lineup and moving from third base to second base to shortstop until that time . . . his clutch hitting probably was the best of his 7 seasons in the major leagues in those 2 months . . . he had 7 game-winning hits from August 12-September 21—5 of them came in a span of 14 appearances—and drove in 10 runs in August and 14 more in September even though he missed the season's last 5 games with a slight ankle injury . . . Paul's fielding, considered as good as just about anyone before a 1968 beaning, became steady again . . . he was the Royals' player-of-the-month for August when he batted .316 . . . Paul had hit well early, too, with a .380 average (19-50) little more than a month into the season, but he wasn't playing every day and he wasn't having as much RBI success as later . . . Schaal's biggest RBI day was August 24 against New York when 2 singles and a triple plated 4 runs . . . the late-season flurry should have ended any remaining doubts about Paul's recovery from that June 13, 1968, beaning . . . the streak also pretty well assured him of opening 1971 at the hot corner . . . there had been considerable doubt whether Paul would play again with effectiveness after he suffered a 1-inch fracture and a punctured eardrum when struck above and behind the left ear by a pitch from Jose Santiago in Fenway Park . . . he played in just 2 more games that 1968 season—the first on August 2 . . . he was the only Angel to have played in every game until the injury, and his 4 plus seasons at California had been so good defensively that in 1969 he was voted the second best third baseman in the Angels' history . . . Aurelio Rodriguez shaded him . . . he started his first Kansas City-owned season as the Omaha shortstop . . . a wider batting stance had helped Paul to a .374 average which led the league on July 4 when the Royals recalled him for keeps (he had been a weekend military replacement once before) . . . he had been American Association player-of-the-month for June . . . he hit in his first 12 games and in 25 of his first 29 with Kansas City, while playing primarily at third base . . . one of Paul's big thrills in baseball was hitting the first inside-the-park home run in Anaheim Stadium on August 2, 1966, to beat New York 6-5 in 11 innings . . . that was a year after he had been named the third baseman on the Topps Major League Rookie all-star team . . . he had won rookie honors once before . . . that was at Quad Cities in 1962 when he was named the team's most valuable player . . . he paced third basemen in fielding (.925), putouts (107), assists (241) and double plays (26) . . . he made the California League all-star club in 1963 when he paced third basemen with his .941 average . . . J. H. (Pete) Peterson signed him for the Angels.

R-R SEVERSON, RICHARD ALLEN (INF.) #15

Rich, 6-0, 170, was born January 18, 1945, at Artesia, Calif. . . . he and wife Diane now call Overland Park, Kan., home . . . he has attended Fullerton (Calif.) Junior College.

Severson, drafted for Omaha from the Chicago White Sox' system on December 2, 1968, was a very pleasant surprise for the Royals last summer . . . he had spent the winter on the Omaha roster and didn't even go to spring training with Kansas City until March 15 when it appeared an extra infielder might be needed . . . he made the club and spent the entire season with Kansas City . . . he played several days in a row early at shortstop, then saw some steady duty at second base which was considered his natural position . . . he went back to shortstop July 26 and played 26 consecutive games through August 22 . . . he batted .275 during that stretch and hit in 13 of 16 games at 1 point . . . he will battle for an infield job again in 1971, and could see duty at third base as well as the other 2 positions . . . Rich doesn't have much power, but makes good contact, particularly in the clutch, and is steady in the field . . . his best day offensively came August 7 in a twin bill against Milwaukee . . . Rich swatted his only home run—a 3-run shot to left off Skip Lockwood—in the 4-0 opener and had 2 singles and 2 doubles and scored twice in the 10-2 nightcap . . . the 5 hits and 10 total bases tied club doubleheader records, and he had a hand in 4 double plays . . . he had 4 hits in a doubleheader at Boston 5 days later . . . Severson led American Association shortstops in fielding (.958) in 1969 . . . 4 years earlier, he had led the Florida State League in hits and sacrifice flies (8), ranked third in hitting and sixth in runs . . . he had starred at Fullerton JC, then turned pro for White Sox scout E. S. Bennett.

ROOKIE QUALIFICATIONS

A major league Rookie is a player who has not spent more than 45 days on a major league roster between opening day (before 1968 it was between the 31st day of the season) and September 1, and who has not exceeded 90 official at bats or 45 innings pitched at the major league level.

R-R TAYLOR, CARL MEANS (OF-1B) #11

Carl, 6-1, 200, was born January 20, 1944, at Sarasota, Fla., where he still lives with wife Carole and son Sean (11-8-66).

Taylor, obtained February 2, 1971, from Milwaukee for catcher Ellie Rodriguez, is expected to give the Royals another solid righthanded bat . . . he has displayed good ability the last 2 seasons as a parttime starter and important pinch hitter for Pittsburgh and St. Louis . . . he could fill about the same role for Kansas City, and serve as a backup catcher, the position he played during most of his 6 seasons in the minors . . . Carl has had 3 full major league seasons, but was used sparingly his rookie year . . . the last 2 summers he has had a composite .296 average and a combined .337 mark for his pinch-hitting work . . . his .3481 average in 1969 actually edged the .3475 posted by National League batting champion Pete Rose, although he didn't have enough at bats to qualify for the title . . . he had a phenomenal .415 pinch-hitting record, with 17 hits in 41 at bats . . . he drove in 6 runs . . . the pinch hitting average was second in the league to teammate Jose Pagan . . . last summer Carl batted .262 as a pinch hitter with 11-for-42 . . . he had 1 pinch homer and jumped his RBI count to 11 . . . his pinch homer was a 9th-inning grand slam which beat San Diego . . . his 3-year pinch hit record is 29-for-93 (.312) with 1 homer and 18 RBI . . . a line drive hitter, Taylor sprays the ball to all fields . . . he has occasional power, and is considered a fine competitor . . . Carl grew up in the Pittsburgh organization after signing a sizeable bonus contract, but now has been with 4 organizations in little more than a year . . . he was a key man in a 4-player swap in the off-season a year ago which saw ace reliever Dave Giusti going from St. Louis to Pittsburgh . . . then last October 23 he and Jerry McNertney were the key figures in a 5-man trade between Milwaukee and St. Louis . . . Carl is a step brother of Baltimore's Boog Powell . . . Taylor had an illustrious minor league career in which he made 4 all-league teams . . . he was honored in the New York-Penn (1963), Carolina (1964) and Southern (1966-67) leagues . . . his 1000 putouts and 74 assists led the NYP circuit for catchers in '63, and his 940 putouts led the Carolina League the next summer . . . he was a baseball and football standout at Key West (Fla.) High School.

R-R YORK, JAMES HARLAN (P) #40

Jim, 6-3, 200, was born August 27, 1947, at Maywood, Calif. . . . single, he now lives at Norwalk, Calif. . . . he is a graduate of Cerritos Junior College in Norwalk and is continuing work at UCLA in the off-season toward a Bachelor of Science Degree in Physical Education and Psychology . . . he also is a salesman in a men's clothing store . . . a nickname is Sarge.

York, signed out of the College World Series in 1969 after being the Royals' 16th choice in the June Free Agent Draft, is considered a prime candidate to win a regular job with the Royals in only his third pro season . . . if he does, it would be as a late-inning reliever where he would team with Ted Abernathy . . . Jim has been outstanding in that capacity since signing out of UCLA . . . a sinker thrown sidearm has been his key pitch . . . he was started in the Northern League after signing for Rosey Gilhousen, the Royals' Western Scouting Director . . . his work was brilliant and he was selected for the all-star team . . . he had 8 saves in addition to his 3 wins and was promoted to the Carolina League during the stretch run . . . he won 1 more and saved another . . . Jim burned up the Eastern League early in '70 with 5 consecutive wins and 2 saves . . . he had the best ERA in the Class AA League when promoted to Omaha on June 1 . . . Jim's relief work was a big reason the Triple A team repeated as American Association champion and captured the playoffs . . . in addition to 8 wins, he logged 9 saves in the regular season, 3 in the playoffs and another in Omaha's only Junior World Series victory . . . he worked in nearly half the games and gained voter support as the top hurler in the league plus this praise from Manager Jack McKeon: "he is the best looking pitching prospect I've ever had" . . . McKeon has managed such hurlers as Jim Kaat and Jim Merritt . . . York's Kansas City debut was a red-letter day . . . it came in the second game of a doubleheader at Chicago on September 21 and marked the first time a player signed originally by the Royals had appeared in a major league game . . . Jim didn't disappoint . . . he came on with runners at first and third and the game tied 1-1 with 1 out in the fifth . . . he walked his first batter, then struck out the next 2 . . . he allowed just 3 hits and 1 run while fanning 5 the final 4 2/3 innings and was rewarded with an 8-2 win . . . he finished with a composite 14-6 record and 15 saves for the year and has a 2-year log of 18-8 with 24 saves . . . he made a big step towards gaining a Kansas City job on June 8 when he hurled 3 hitless and scoreless innings in an exhibition game against Pittsburgh . . . Jim spent a little time in the Florida Instructional League last fall, compiling a 1.64 ERA and an 0-1 record in 11 innings over 6 games . . . his longest pro stint was 9 1/3 innings in relief for Elmira . . . he became a relief pitcher in his junior year (1968) at UCLA when he pitched in 16 of the Bruins' 19 Pacific Eight Conference games . . . his 7-4 record, 1.48 ERA and 70 strikeouts in 61 innings helped UCLA to the league and NCAA District 8 titles in 1969 . . . he had an 0.45 ERA in league play and made the all-conference team . . . Jim lost 2 consecutive games in the College World Series, but didn't allow a single earned run . . . he helped Cerritos to a 40-0 record in 1966 . . . Jim played baseball and basketball at Norwalk High School.

11 HITS BY OUTFIELD

Kansas City's outfield nearly made the all-time major league record book with an outstanding hitting performance at California on May 4, 1969.

Paced by Bob Oliver's 6-for-6 day, the outfield had a total of 11 hits, 1 short of the record of 12 hits—a mark that has been reached only 3 times. Ed Kirkpatrick in rightfield contributed 3 hits and Lou Piniella in left had 2. The last time 12 hits were recorded by an outfield was by Cleveland on April 29, 1952.

"SAVE" RULE

Relief pitchers get official recognition in box scores and statistics for "saving" a game.

Rule (10.20), which was added in 1969, states: "Credit a save to a relief pitcher who enters the game with his team in the lead if he holds the lead the remainder of the game, provided he is not credited with the victory.

"A relief pitcher cannot be credited with a save if he does not finish the game, unless he was removed for a pinch-hitter or pinch-runner.

"When more than one relief pitcher qualifies for a save under the provisions of this rule, credit the save to the relief pitcher judged by the scorer to have been the most effective. Only one save can be credited in any game."

1970 FARM CLUB HIGHLIGHTS

The continuing success story of Omaha put frosting on another productive year by Kansas City's farm system, which will grow from 6 to 7 teams in 1971 although it already ranked as the largest minor league organization of any of the 1969 expansion clubs. The addition is a rookie club in the Gulf Coast League which will be stocked by the Baseball Academy.

Omaha came from far back to capture the Eastern Division crown of the American Association with a 73-65 record, then swamped Denver, the Western Division winner, 4 games to 1 in a playoff to win its second consecutive league championship. No other expansion club in history has come close to this feat at the Triple A level.

Omaha was beaten by Syracuse, the International League champion, 4 games to 1 in the Junior World Series, but had to play all games in Syracuse because of inclement weather in Omaha.

Kansas City's over-all minor league record (318-350) was almost identical in percentage to its impressive first full year in 1969, even though the Royals became the first of the new organizations to add a Double A team staffed entirely of players from within the Royals' system. The Royals would have been only 3 games below .500 without a Double A club.

Jack McKeon was named manager-of-the-year for the second year in a row for leading Omaha to its title. He and scout Art Stewart were honored within the Royals' organization as winners of the first annual Ewing M. Kauffman awards which go to the top minor league manager and scout in the system.

Three players were named to the various minor league classification all-star teams selected by the Topps Chewing Gum Company and the National Association. Tommy Smith, a catcher with Elmira, was named to the Class AA-East team; Stan Jackson, a first baseman with Kingsport, was selected for the Rookie-East team and pitcher John Gaylord of Billings was honored on the Rookie-West team.

Others nominated for the various teams were outfielder George Spriggs of Omaha in Class AAA-East, pitcher Doug Bird of Waterloo and shortstop Lloyd Lightfoot and outfielder Tom Crichton of San Jose in Class A-West, and first baseman Bob Peters and outfielders Al Cowens and Frank Ortenzio of Billings in Rookie-West.

Kansas City was the only 1969 expansion club to have any representatives on the rookie teams and was 1 of only 5 teams to have 2 or more players chosen.

Spriggs was accorded most valuable player honors in the American Association.

Spriggs, Ortenzio, Cowens, Smith and Jackson were named to their respective all-league teams as was Bob Garibaldi, acquired from San Francisco's Phoenix farm club over the winter, who was named the right-handed pitcher on the Pacific Coast League all-star team. Omaha's Monty Montgomery, a pitcher, made various American Association all-star teams.

Many of the Royals farmhands played for Kansas City in the Florida Winter Instructional League where they finished in fourth place in the Southern Division with a 24-27 record. At times, the youthful team led the division. It reeled off 9 consecutive victories and had a trio of 1-hitters.

Royals Open Minor League Complex And Baseball Academy at Sarasota, Florida

The Royals' baseball properties added an exciting new dimension in 1970 when their ultra-modern Minor League Complex and Baseball Academy were opened in Sarasota, Fla.

Located on a 121-acre plot in the southeast part of Sarasota, the 1.5 million dollar project includes a 4-diamond configuration plus a main diamond on which lights and 1,000 bleacher-type seats are being built. These outstanding facilities are being shared by the Royals' minor league teams and the Academy as are a spacious clubhouse and training room set up for more than 200 athletes and a dining room equipped to handle 175 players at one time. In addition, the minor league officials and Baseball Academy staff have new offices and the Academy has classrooms and dormitory rooms for 50 players. The over-all project also includes landscaping—starting with a pair of 8-acre lakes stocked for fishing. The complex is considered by most baseball experts to be the finest of its type ever constructed.

The complex was opened on August 10, 1970, when the Baseball Academy (described below) inaugurated its first historic class. The farm system first used the facility last fall for its Florida Instructional League team. The Academy will continue to use the facilities year-round while the minor league portion of the camp will be used for spring training for some 150 players (details are on pages 78-79) and for the instructional league program.

BASEBALL ACADEMY MAKES GIANT STRIDES

Ewing Kauffman's Baseball Academy, a unique venture to find a fresh supply of talent for his Kansas City Royals, shifted into high gear in 1970. It moved from the drawing board to reality when its doors swung open to 43 multi-talented young men on August 10, 1970, and will attain new heights in 1971 when results of the first year talent search are further evaluated through entry into the rookie Gulf Coast League. The year also will see the second class enter the Academy in August.

Kauffman's approach is to attempt to find superior athletes whose exposure to baseball may have been limited but who meet the extremely high test standards as developed by the Academy staff. Kauffman set up the staff, headed by longtime professional scout Syd Thrift. The Academy staff combed the nation in search of the best all-around athletes with the potential to develop into major leaguers. The basic credentials required for acceptance to the Academy include outstanding speed, eyesight, coordination, agility, balance, reactions and dedication.

Under Thrift's direction, the Academy staff, with assistance from the Royals' regular scouting staff, held 126 tryout camps in 41 states and the staff evaluated 7,682 athletes. Only 43 met the requirements and were signed. About 80 per cent of them were between 17 and 19 years old, and most had enjoyed more success in sports other than baseball.

The students study baseball all year long—and are paid for it. They live in the dormitory and attend classes 3 mornings a week at Manatee Junior College in nearby Bradenton, Fla.

Classes are held at the Academy 2 other mornings each week, and the players are on the diamond at least 5 afternoons a week.

The Academy had a 32-19 (.627) record last fall against mainly Florida collegiate competition and plans a 70-game schedule, primarily against college opposition, this spring. Then it is on to the Gulf Coast League, and, hopefully, the major leagues within a reasonable time.

The Academy staff, most of whom have major league experience, includes:

—Dr. Steve Korcheck, coordinator of studies.
—Dr. Ray Reilly, research psychologist.
—Floyd Chandler, instructor.
—Frank Evans, instructor.
—Jim Lemon, instructor.
—Chuck Stobbs, instructor.
—Carlton "Buzzy" Keller, instructor.
—Joe Tanner, instructor.
—G. V. (Pee Wee) Bourrette, weight-training advisor.
—Harry Ledford, trainer.
—Harold (Spike) Claassen, director of public relations.
—Sam Ketchman, administrative assistant.

A new series of tryout camps for high school graduates and college eligibles starts early each year and culminates with a heavy schedule from coast-to-coast in June and July.
